RESERVED FOR ODETTE

Patty.

To me you are the closest friend I have had. I know we will stay friends for many years. yes, even after I and you have 25 kids a piece, I know we will still be friend. Rember all my problems I have burdened you with just to name a few.

my accounting grade
the transfer out of English and of course Boys.

I am glad I can talk to you so easily. Maby we can do something exciting this Summer. Best of luck to you in every thing you do now and in the Future.

Love Always,

P.S. Friends Forever

In the quiet night, sometimes I pray
For a time to love and a time to laugh
And for the chance at another day.

But if some day the sun would set in the west,
and never return to light up the skies
I'd know that my deeds would not be forgotten:
I've left my tracks behind.

Brenda Lowe

"I left my tracks"

"I've made Maryvale more than just an everyday school. It's made me aware of other people, their joys and sorrows."
Mark Fallon

"I made it better, but it didn't make me any smarter."

New 'Panther Visage' draws mixed reactions.

The graduating class of 1977 gave the word originality a new meaning when they spent $1100 dollars to buy their old alma mater an eye-catching sculpture of a panther.

This indescribable piece of art is the newest addition to the Maryvale campus. Students have almost gotten used to the fact that the panther, which has been implanted in front of the library, is here to stay (what else can we do with it) and has practically become a part of Maryvale life.

The senior class chose artist Mike McCleve to provide the controversial addition, which has met with mixed reactions from students. He calls it 'A Panther Visage', and describes it as a panther on its hind legs as if it were in a fight. Mike also points out the shadows it produces in the winter. The students, however, were not excited about this unique benefit.

Students brave hot sun to purchase books early

With school opening a week earlier than usual, it moved the sale of books up to hotter August.

Students rather reluctantly gave up their vacations to spend about a half day standing in lines and picking out the books necessary for the start of classes.

The books were stacked in the halls of the 200 building, but even so, many students had trouble finding exactly what they wanted. Once the books were found and the ID pictures made, students stood in line to find out the bad news: how much all of this cost.

Assemblies add pep to students' high school life

Poms, Cheers, and Student Government helped the different Panther Teams along their 'in-seasons.' This year featured the "Gong Show" with Mean Jean the Dancing Machine, also appearing were the "unknown" Poms and the Cheers in Panther appearal. A new feature of the homecoming assembly was a parade of the Band, football team, and the floats from the front of the school to the football field. The homecoming royalty nominees were introduced, the Cheers lead in a few cheers, and Coach Young spoke. The assembly was ended by everyone joining in the fight song.

Shakespeare and 'Love' Fall Thespians offering

This years first Thespian production was Shakespeare's, "A Midsummer Night's Dream". It was a melodramatic love story in which Lance Gulseth played Lysander, Les Jarosz played Demetruis, Vicki Lamb played Hermia, and Katy Marks, played Helena.

In supporting roles were David Brantley as Oberon, Carol Dabill as Titana, Greg Hynes as Puck, and Richard Jackson as Nick Bottom. Other cast members included Terrence Daniels, Steve Hall, Tom Schemitzler, and Michah Williams.

"Here's Love" based on the play "Miracle on 34th Street" was the second production.

The shows principle characters were Ex-marine Captain Fred Gailey, played by Lance Gulseth, Macy's Department Store Executive, Doris Walker, portrayed by Carol Dabill, Doris daughter, Susan played by Pattie Marquis, and Kris Kringle played by Terrence Daniels.

Those who played supporting roles were Tim Gift, who played Marvin Shellhammer, Doris' bumbling assistant; Greg Hynes as the owner of Macy's Department Store, R. C. Macy. Steve Hall as the store phyciatrist Mr. Sawyer who accuses Kris Kringle of insanity, and Richard Jackson who portrayed Thomas Mara, Sr., Mr. Sawyer's lawyer.

Other members of the cast were, Marvin Zieser, Vicki Lamb, and Micah Williams.

OKLAHOMA, Thespians' Spring Offering

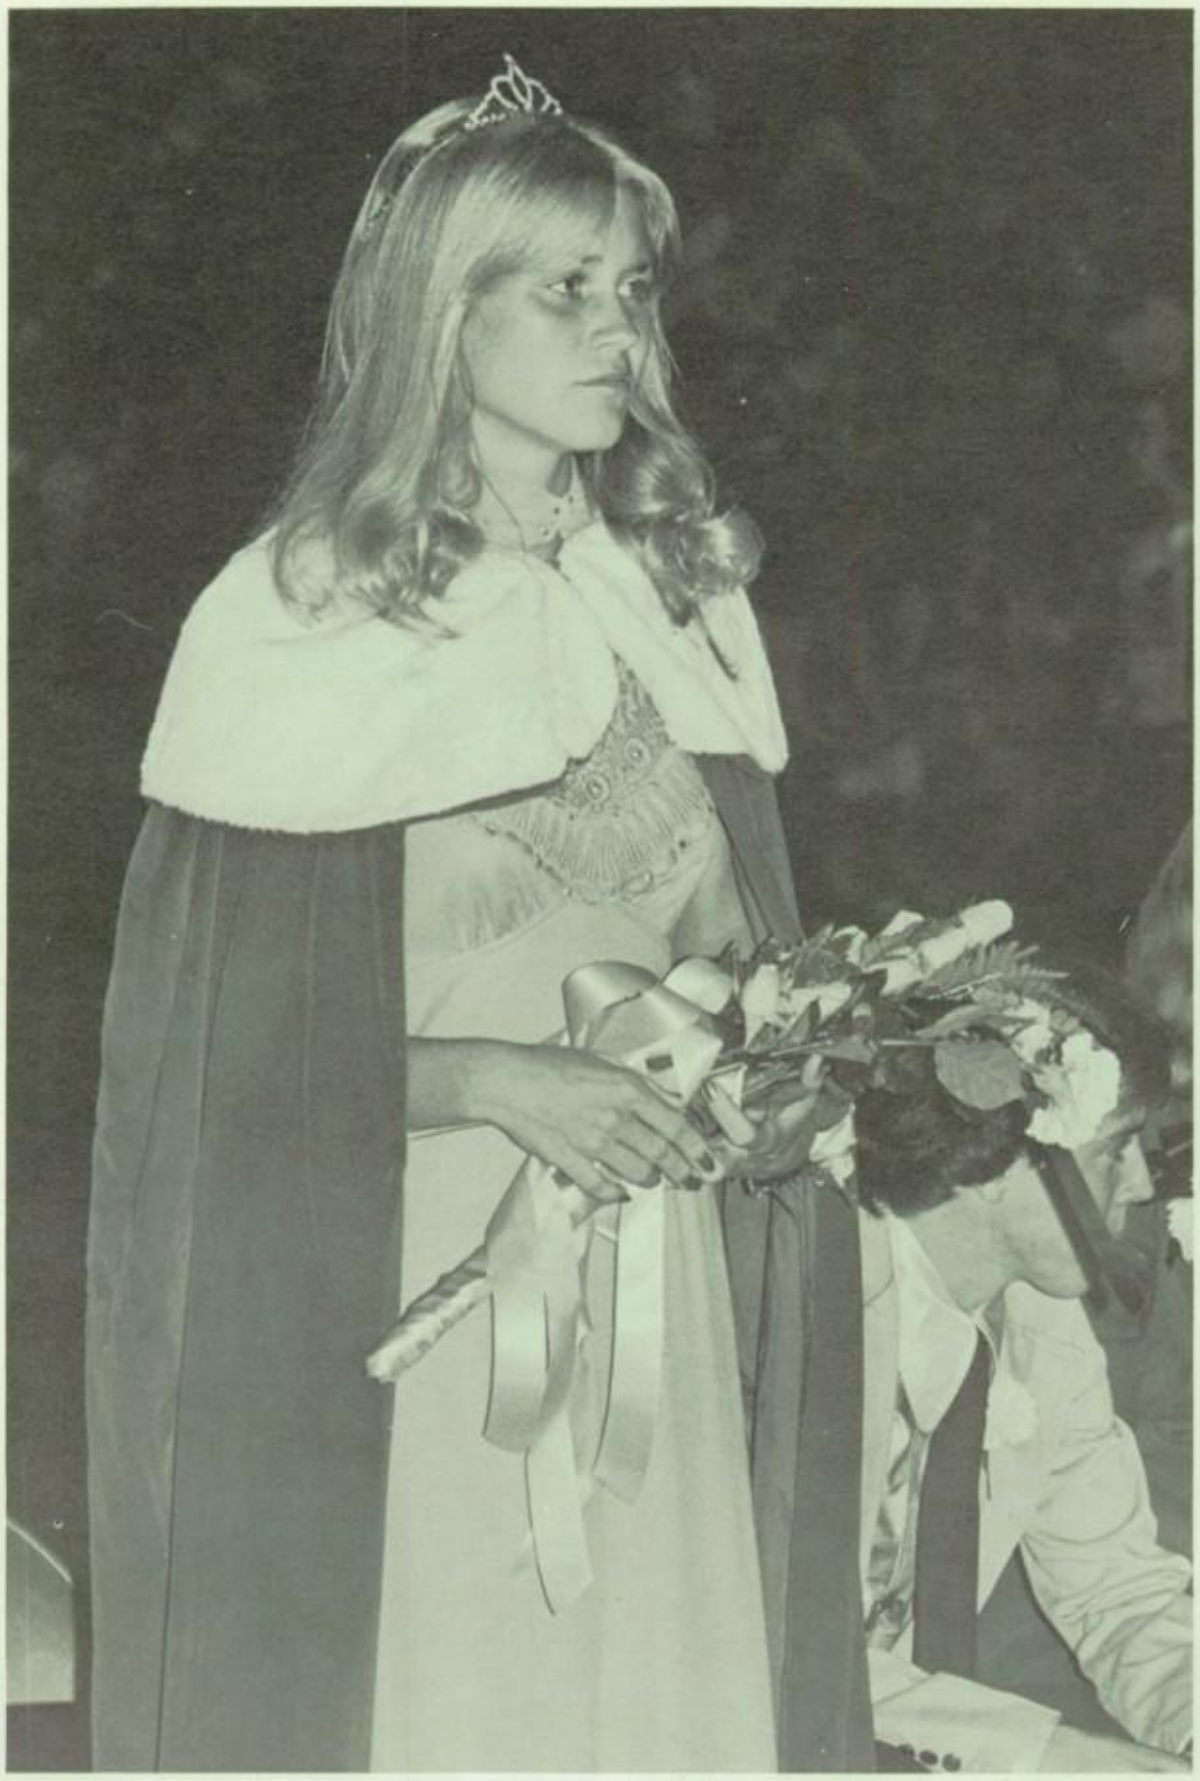
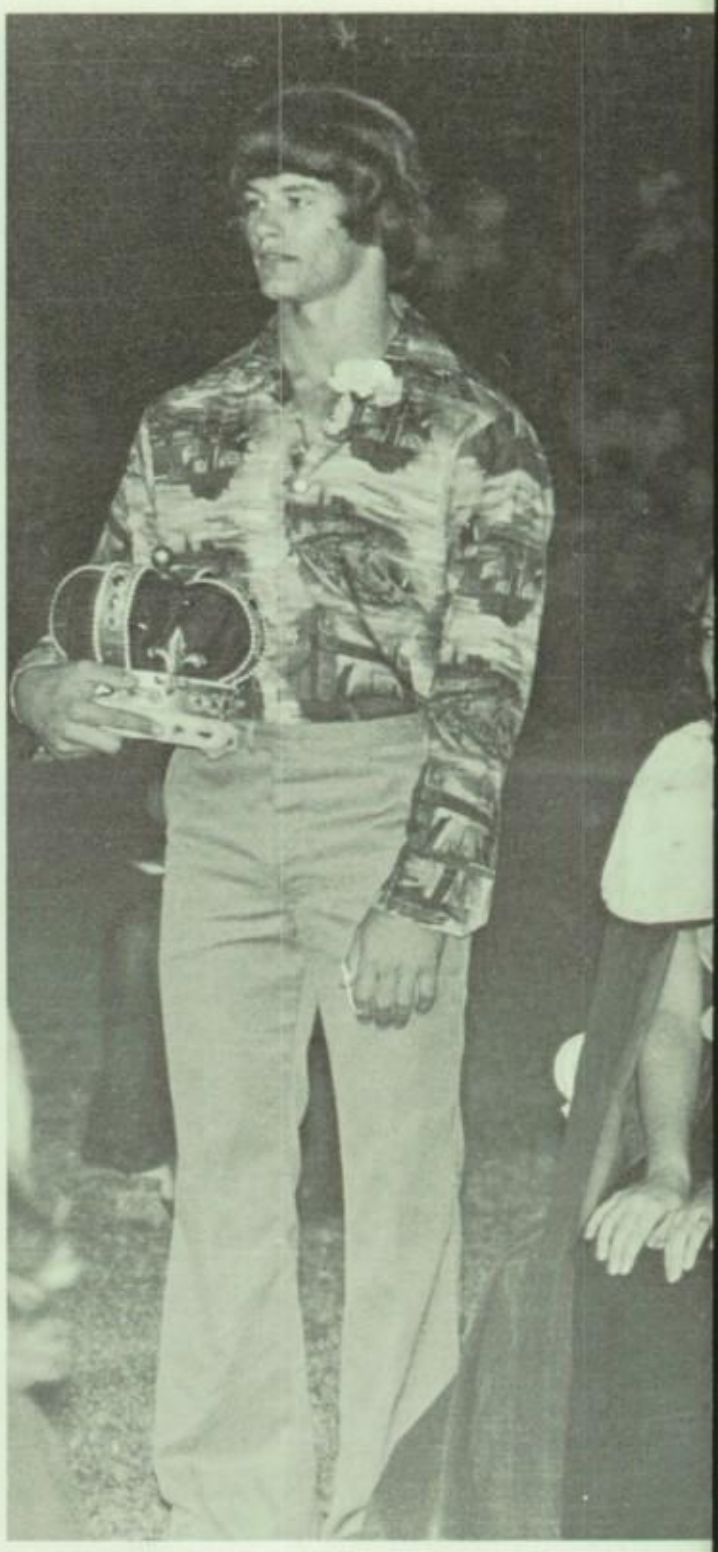
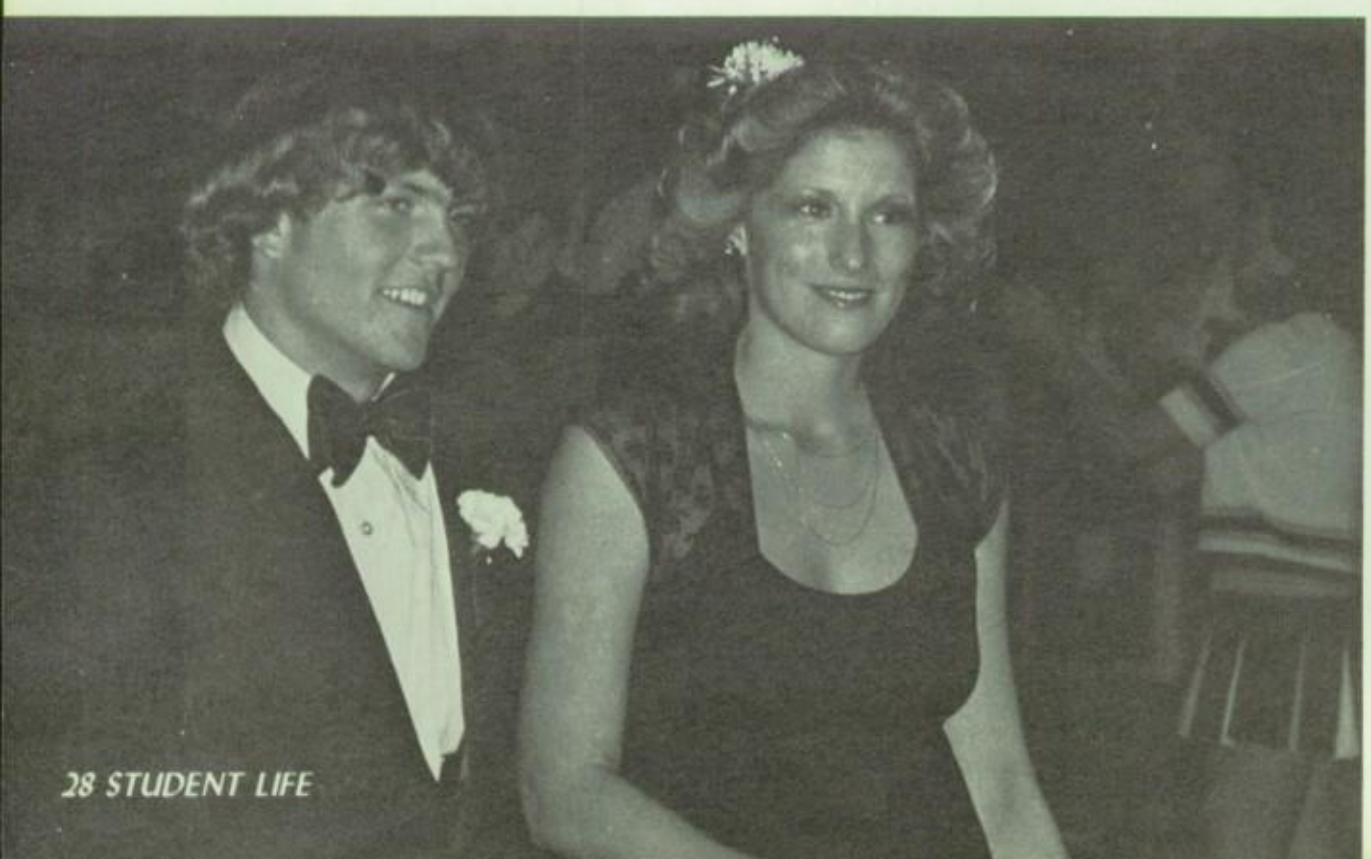
The Thespians third and final production of the year was "OKLAHOMA". It was a mixture of comedy, tragedy, music, and love. The play starts off on a beautiful day, with Curly, played by Marvin Zieser, singing, "Oh! What a Beautiful Day". He had come to ask Laurie, played by Dee Ann Kindall, to the Lunch Box Picnic. The lunches are made by the girls in town and then bid on to raise money to build the schoolhouse. Jud Frye, played by Micah Williams, is bound and determined to have Laurie, and stops at almost nothing. Later Jud leaves town, only to return on Laurie's and Curly's wedding day. Curly and Jud get in a fight in which Jud falls on his knife, killing him. Curly is found not-guilty in a made-up trial. Meanwhile Alley Hakim, played by Steve Hall is trying to get rid of Ado Annie played by Jill Baker, and Will Parker, played by Tom Smidtsler, is trying to get her. Everything comes out in the end and everyone goes their own way.

Other performers were Dori Kessinger as Aunt Eller, Tony Sarsam as Slim, Kari Ameroso as Gertie, Jenny Marks as Ellen, Terrance Daniels as the town judge, Richard Jackson, Greg Hynes, and the Chourus. Both "OKLAHOMA" and "HERE'S LOVE" were accompanied by a pit orchestra.







Noon contests, coronation, win enliven homecoming

Homecoming was a time of celebration, exultation and anticipation this year.

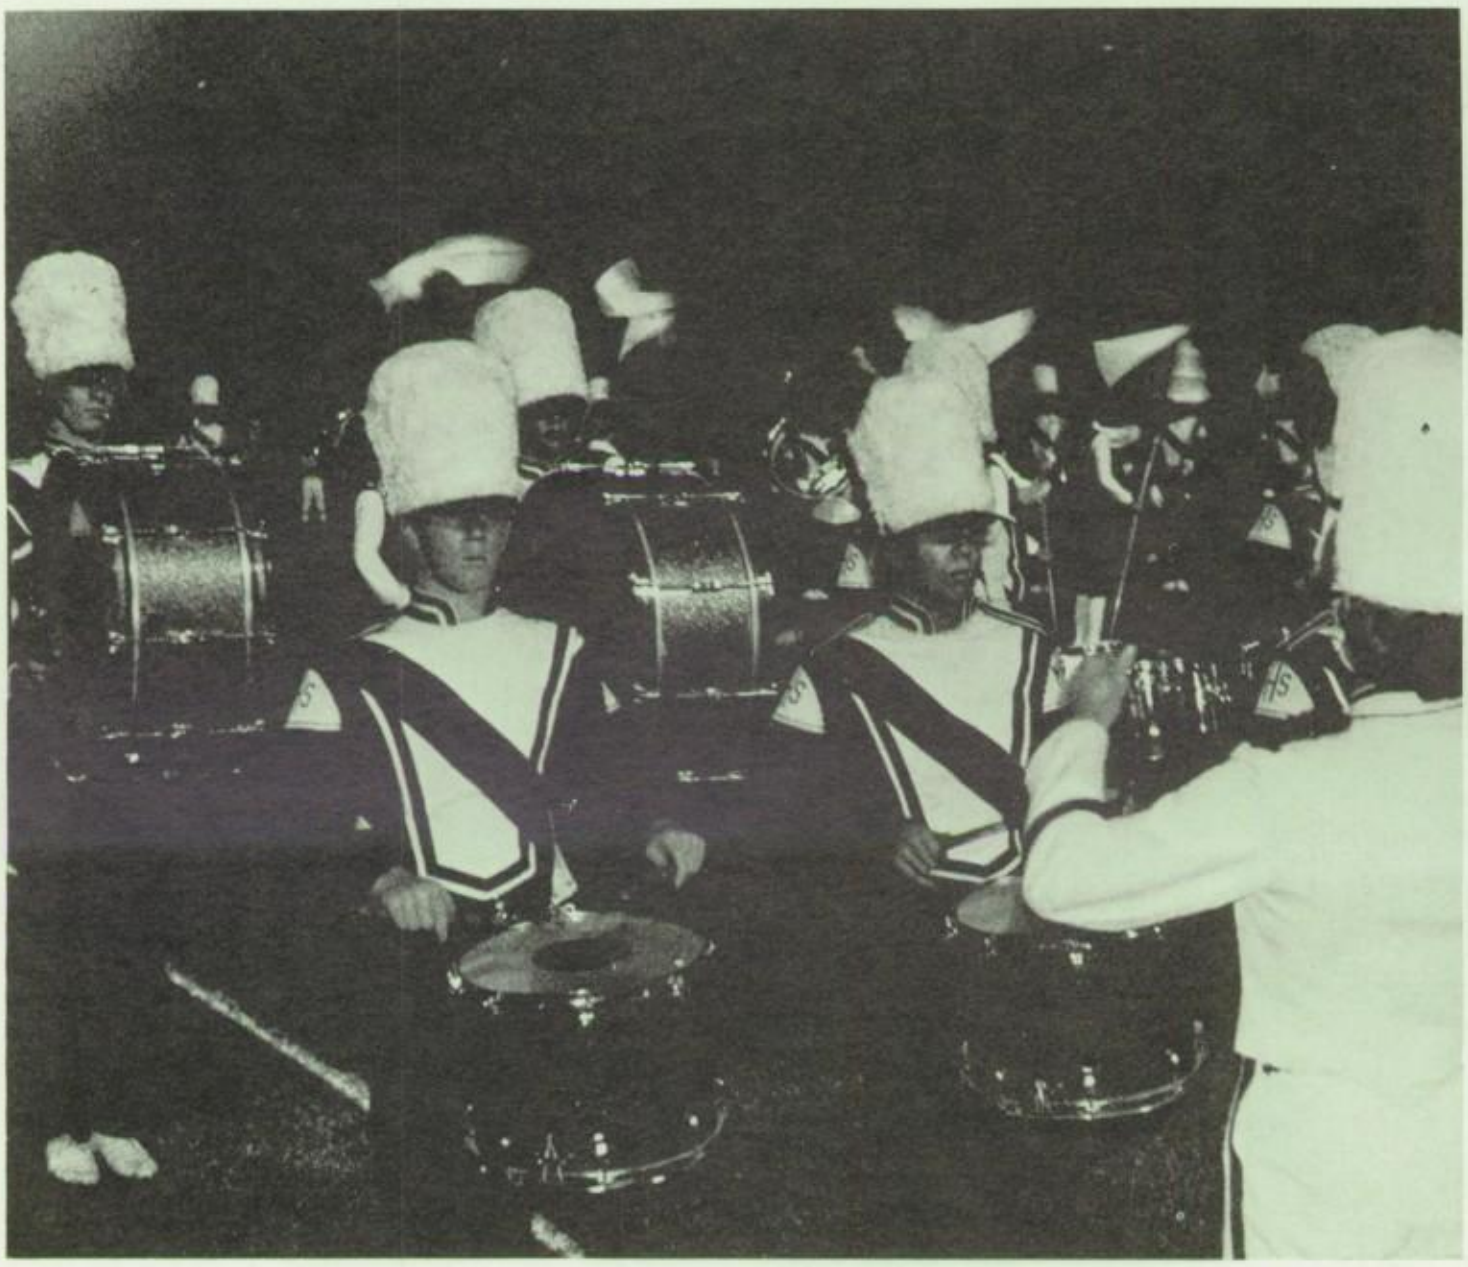
The celebrating was done with all sorts of games and contests during lunch hours all week.

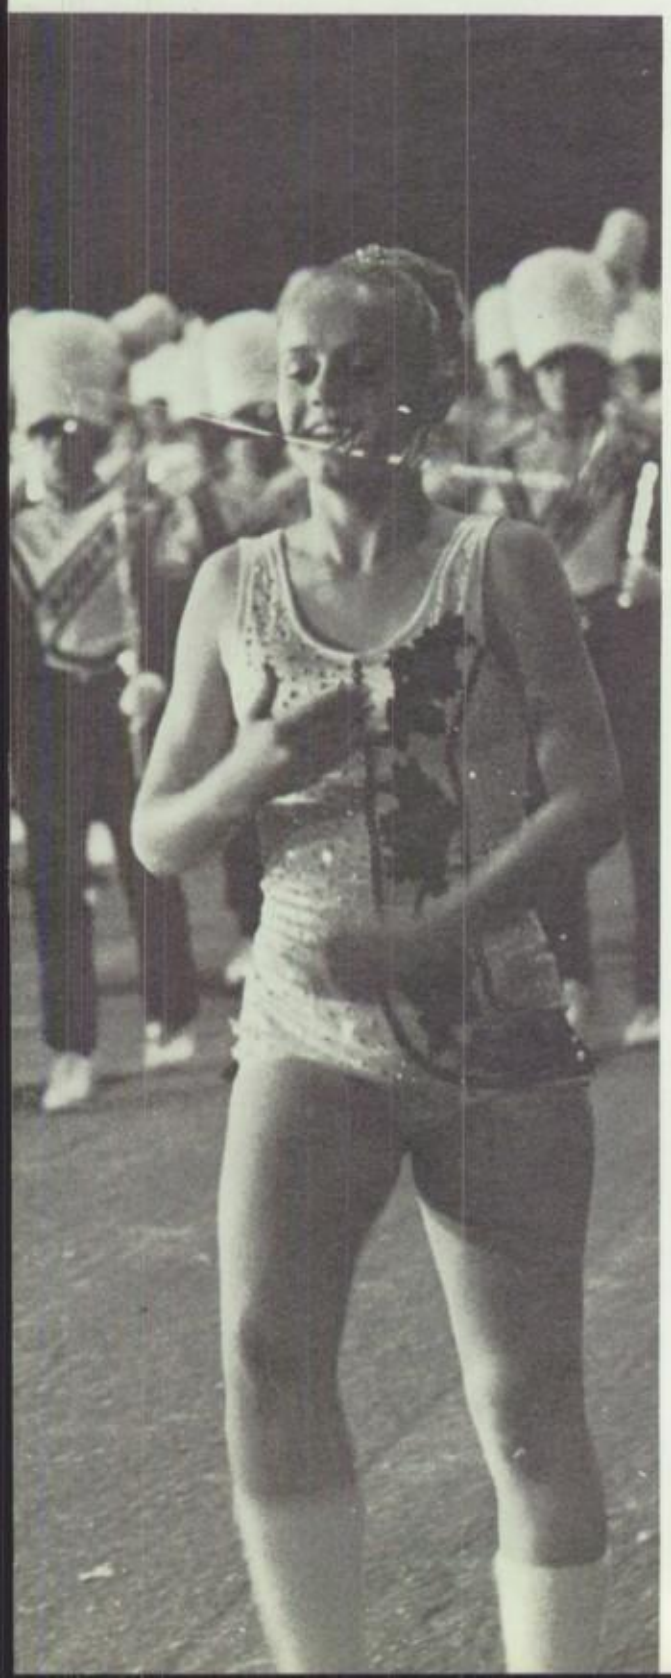
The exultation was done because the football team was undefeated in a year when it was supposed to be rebuilding.

The anticipation was in the form of speculation as to how the team would do against Moon Valley, another previously unbeaten team.

Anticipation also entered into the wait for the announcement of the king and queen.

By midnight, October 14, the last chair had been musicaled, the team had won, 14-0, Hutch and Kelly had been crowned and even the last dance had been danced. Homecoming was something to look forward to next year.



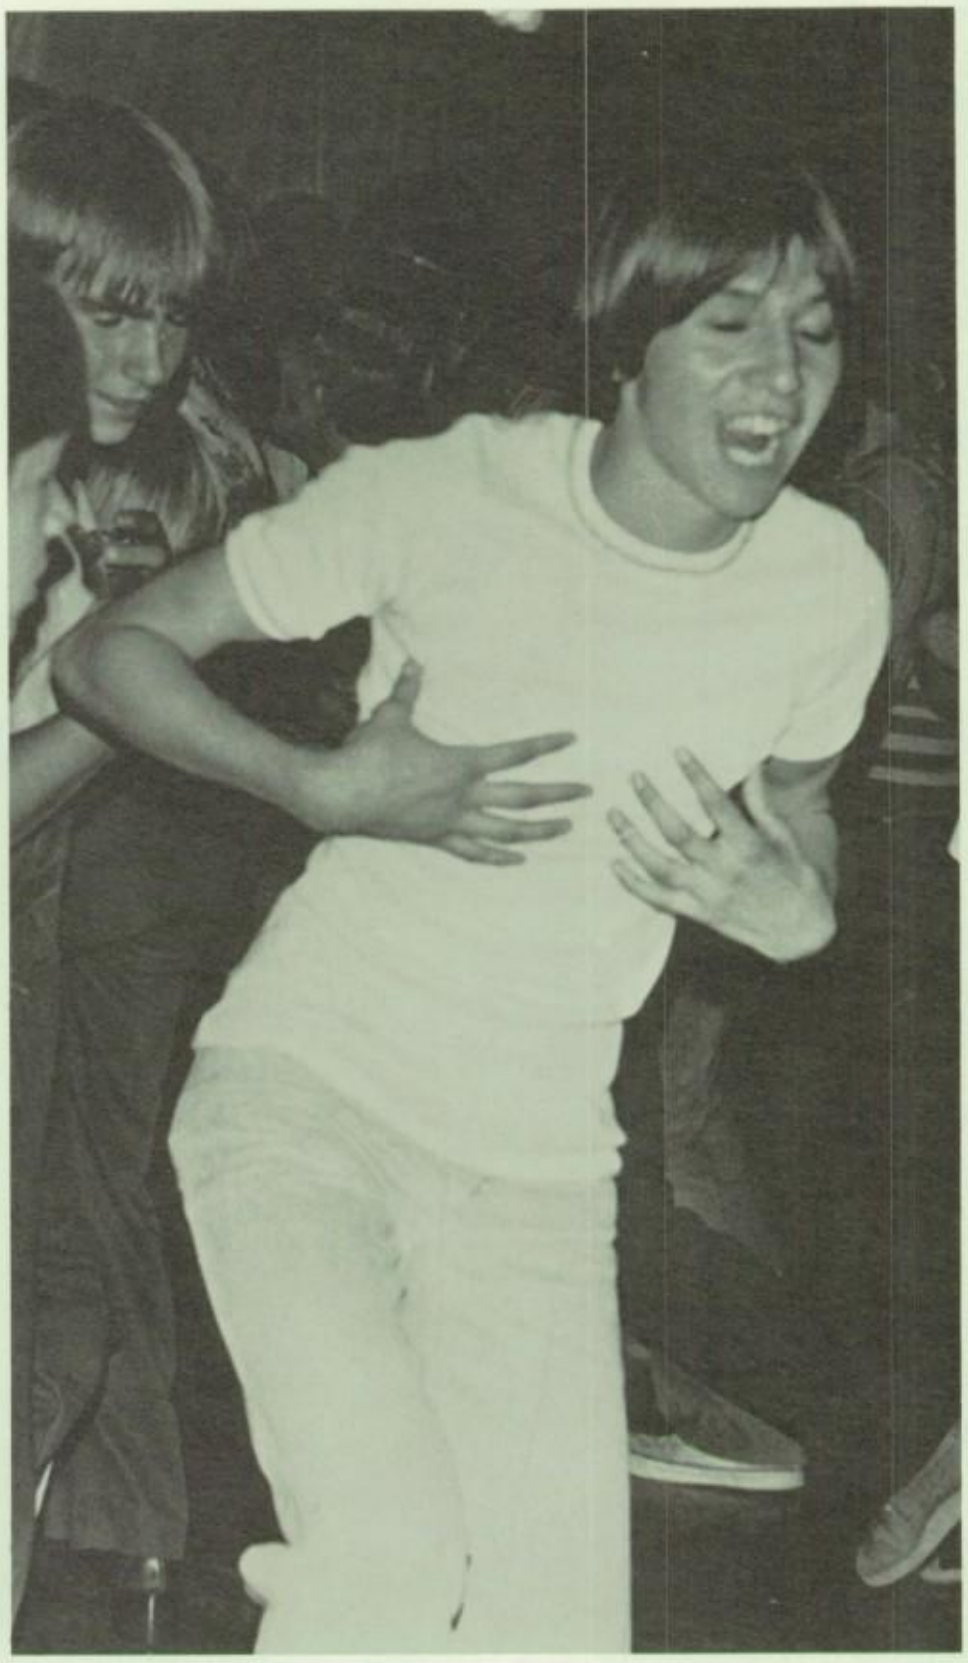


Band perfects routines during morning practices

Football was a great sport, but was made better by the support of the Panther Varsity Marching Band. They played at games, marched in parades, and are planning a trip to California this spring.

The band practiced very hard every morning, along with the Poms, and Flag Line, an added asset this year. The Line included seniors Jill Baker, Linnea Dameron, Karen Dehe, Kathy Grimm, Katy Marks, and Mary Ann Mitchell, and Juniors Yvonne Beck, Andrea Brott, Michelle Kode, Patti Marquie, Penny Price, and Tracey Sifrit. They were lead by Director Robert Connolly, who, during marching season, was assisted by Senior Drum Major Bentley Stanfield.

The band received a superior rating at The ASU Band Day, a tradition they've held for many years.



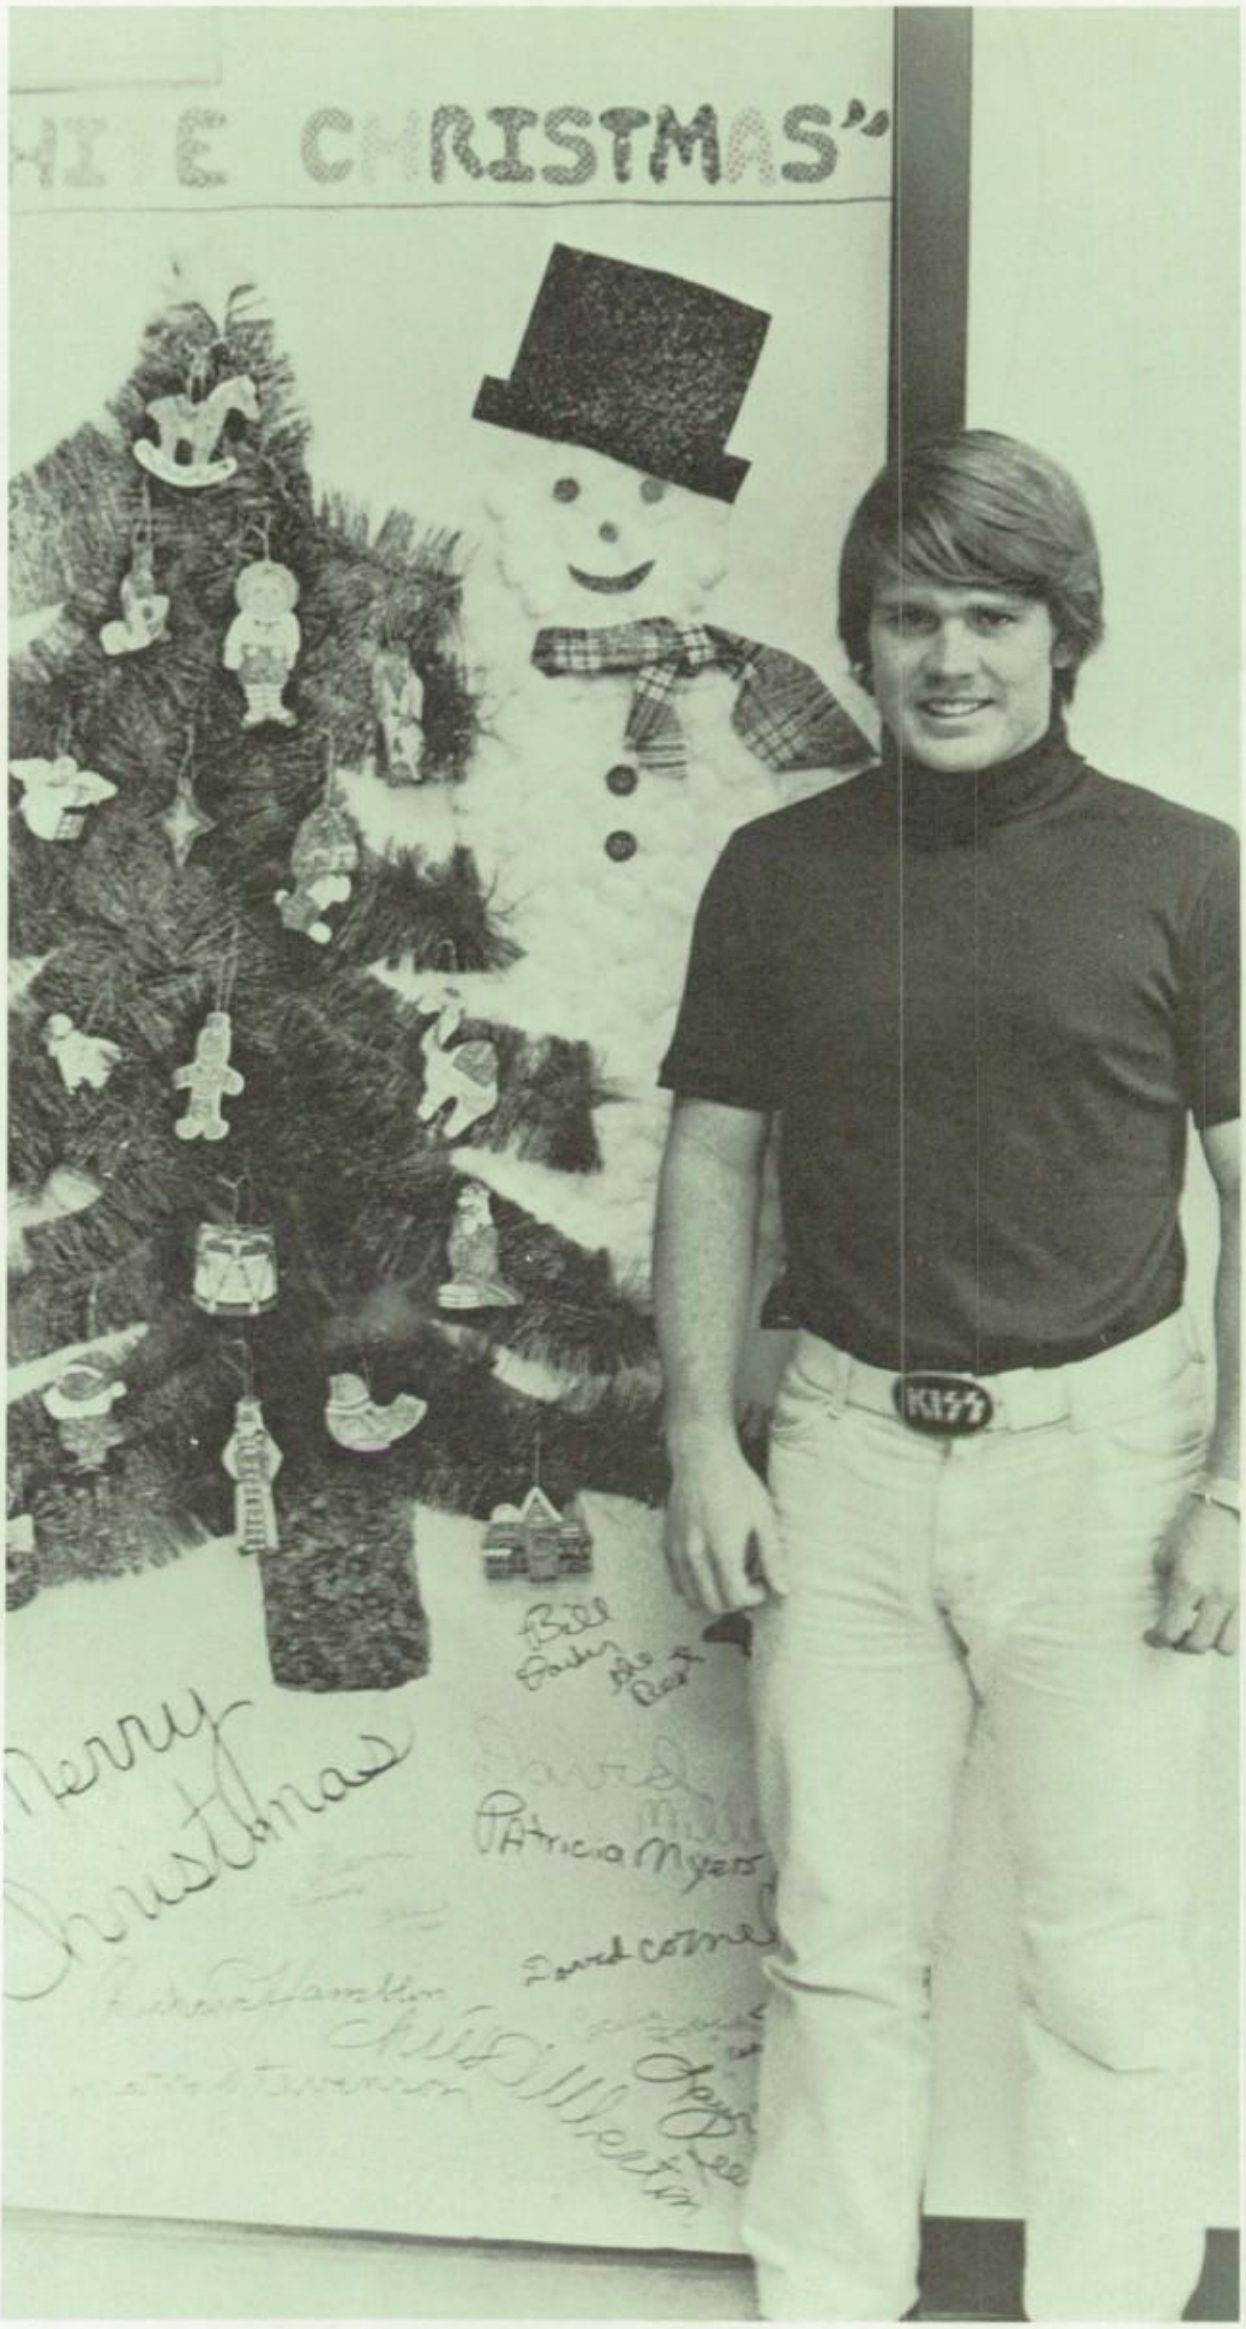
Everyone meets at After-game dances

After-game dances got off to a rotten start when a curcuit in the speaker system blew out, leaving the would-be disco dances complaining in mid-step.

Disco dances have become so popular that the only dances to use live music were the Christmas Formal and the prom. Even Homecoming went disco this year.

After the foul-up at first, the rest of the dances went smoothly and were well attended. One of the most popular dances was the bunny hop performed at the homecoming dance.

Santa Claus visits MHS at Christmas



Santa Claus came to the Maryvale campus to take orders from the good little students for the first time this year.

This trip along with the formal, door decorating contest and the Black Student Union's canned goods drive comprised the bulk of the activity at Maryvale during the yuletide season.

The student government took over sponsorship of the formal because the Girl's League disbanded rather than take in boys required by title nine. Mr. James Jacobsen's second hour class edged Mrs. Dorann Thoreen's class to win the canned foods contest.

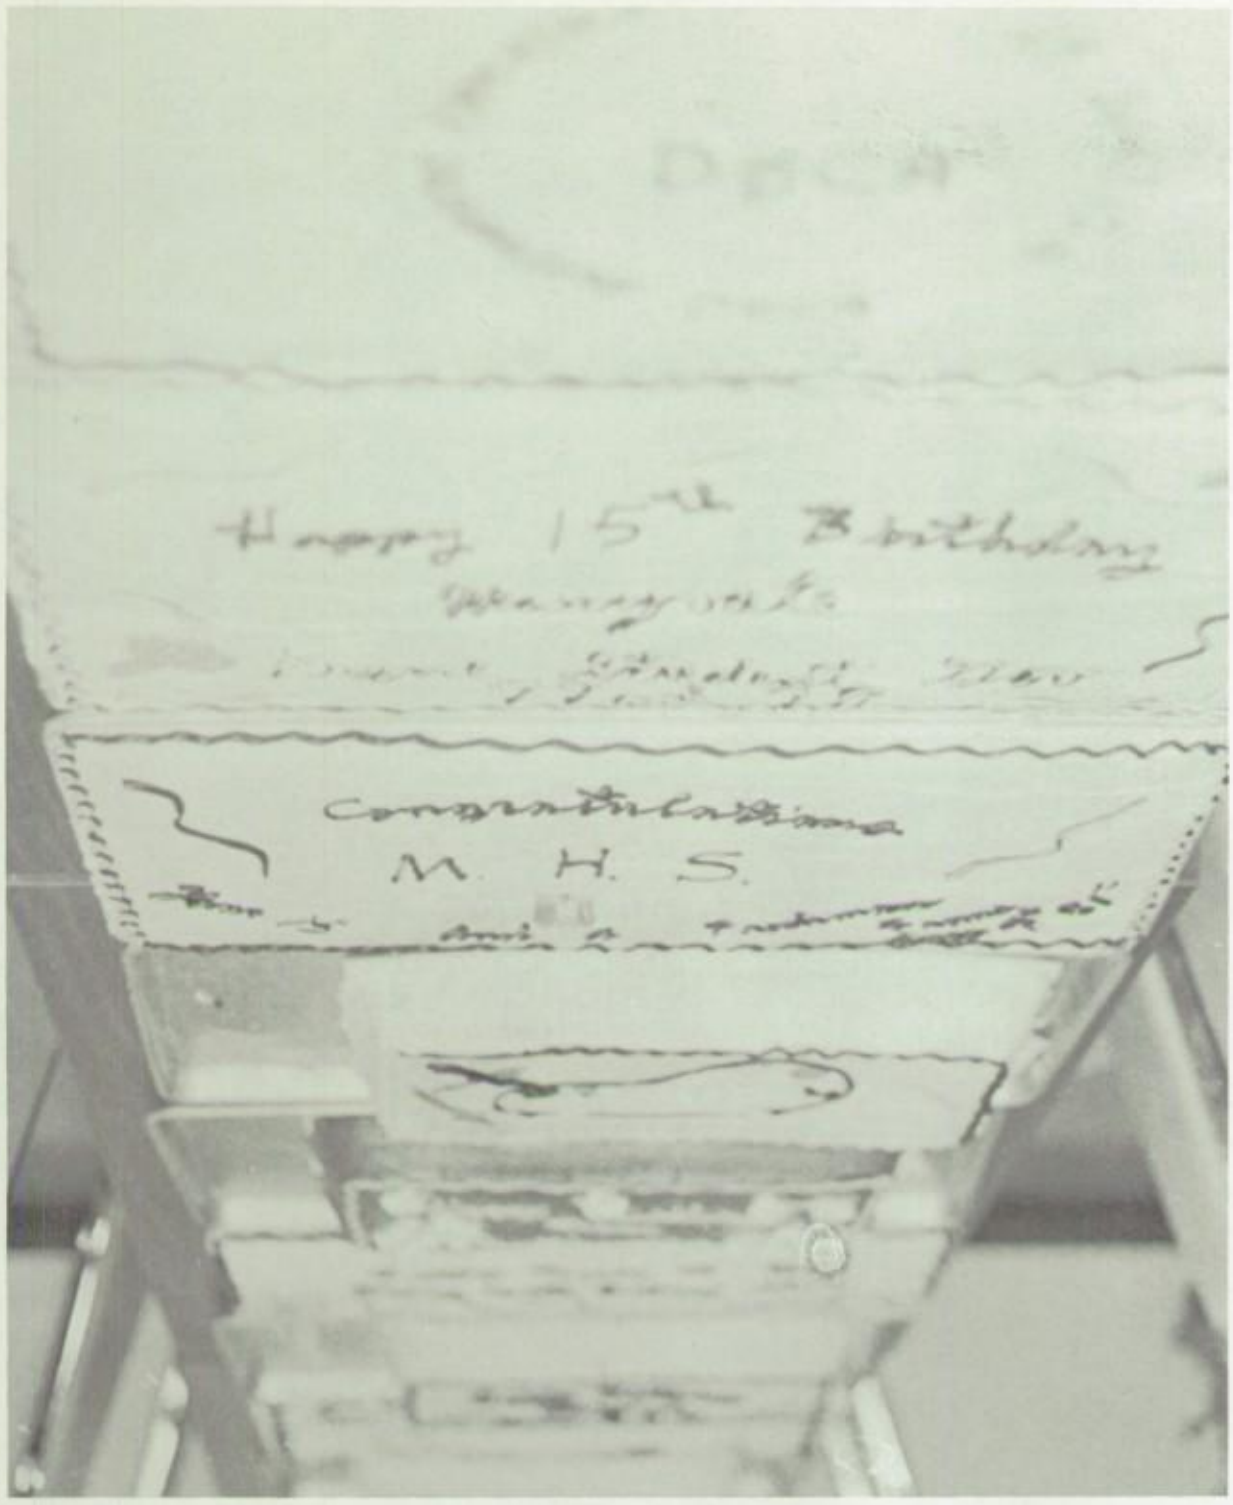
Student government was carried out through the executive committee who were Legrand Einbender, Chris Dedmon, Mike Chriss, Jim Hutchison, Sally Zeugner, Gail Woods, Cheryl Nichols, Gina Carney, Missy Parrinello, Sponsor Dorann Thoreen, Melinda Dropik, Janet Szymanski, and Lisa Coffey. They did such things as serve a super sandwich to inter-club counsel. Mike Fong (right) gets a slice from Mike Chriss. They also sponsored the cake baking for Maryvale's birthday, (upper right) and sold T-shirts. Jim Hutchison (lower right) tries to sell one to David Young and Debbie Worley.



Snack bar sales finance projects for government

Mention any activity on the Maryvale campus and student government not only is acquainted with it but can produce voluminous files on how to conduct it.

From homecoming to Maryvale's birthday, activities are the everyday business of the executive committee which meets every day at fourth period. They also take care of such things as the marquee which keeps students informed.

Student government runs the after school snack bar and the money raised by this activity aids all the clubs and organizations on campus.

Chris Dedmon served as president of student government this year.

Panthorian staff finds yearbook lingo confusing

Conversations around the publications room tend to become confused during deadlines because of mixing technical jargon with everyday terms. For instance:

A dummy is either a pattern for a page or whoever Mr. Stinson is mad at.

Bleed is either a picture that goes outside the usual margins or what Mary does at deadlines.

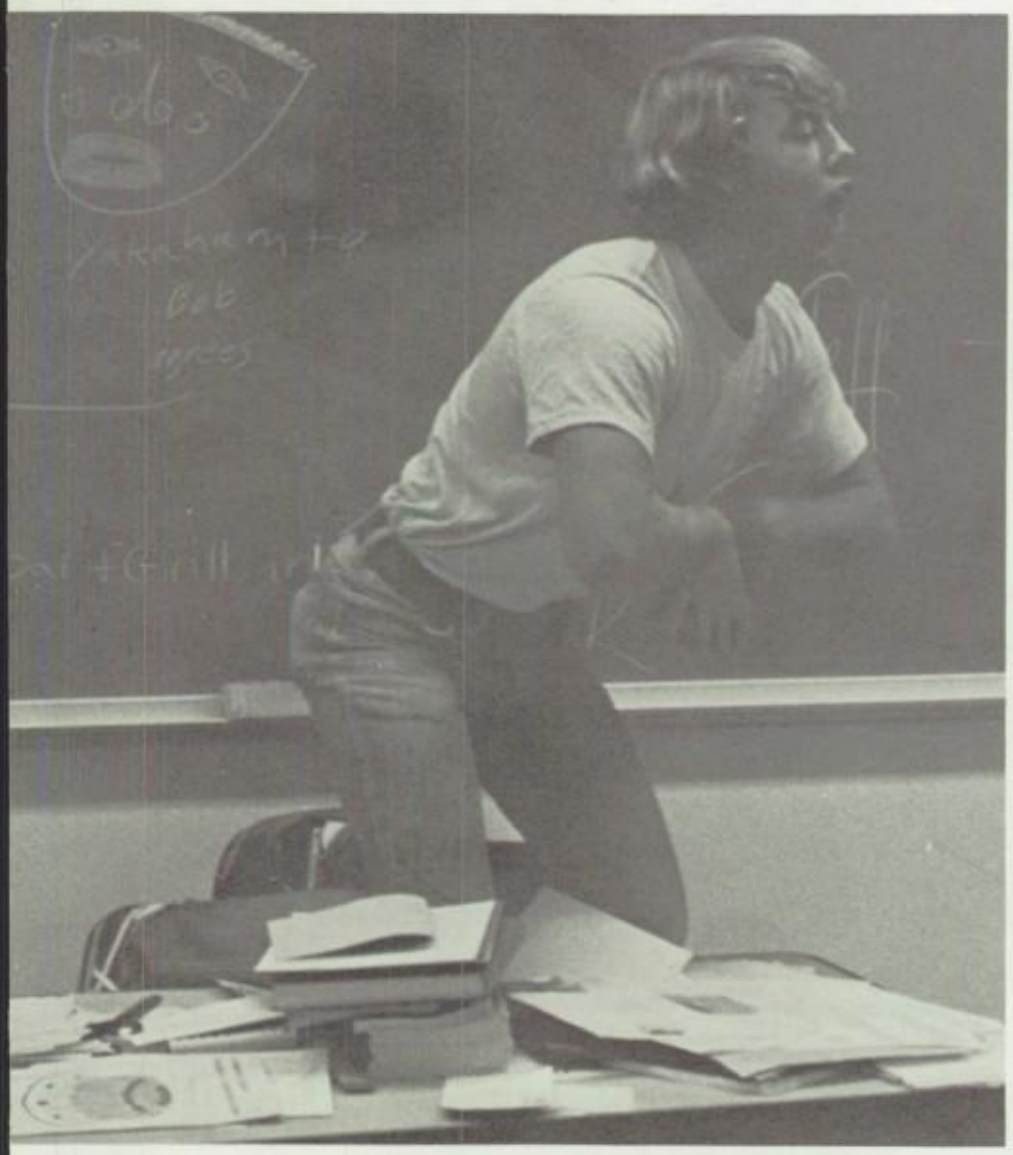
A gutter is either the area between facing pages or where Bob Nance's mind is.

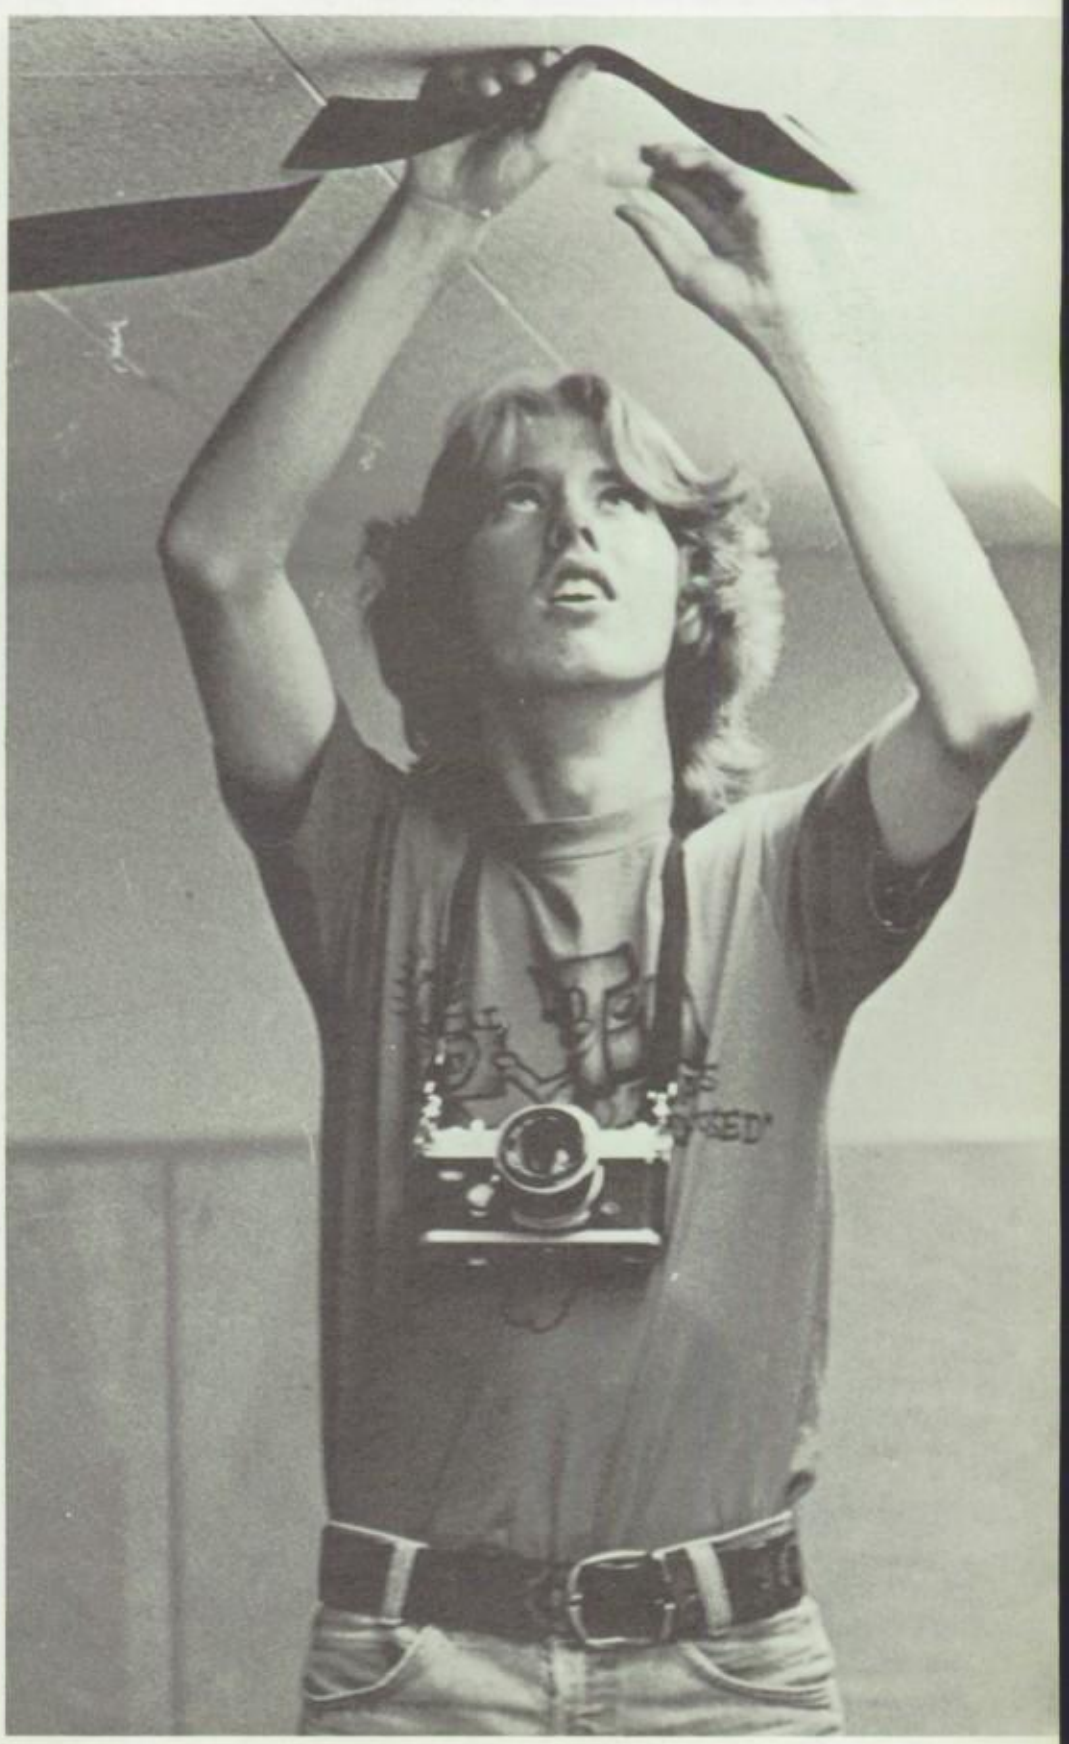
A ladder is either a plan of the entire book or a place one climbs to escape Mary's wrath.

A point is either a printer's measure or what all photographers do when one asks who is responsible for a bad print.

Final deadline is either when the last pages of the yearbook are mailed or the staff's obituary.

The group of weirdos above are responsible for the ninth wonder of the world: this yearbook. They are Lynn Rikas, Kim Wilke, Alison Silbaugh, Gail Woods, Tami Olsen, Mary Leggin, Leslie Hodge, Lydia Barquin, Troy Williams, Doug Taylor, Bob Nance, Sharon Conover, Robert Papineau, Tim Silbaugh, and Heidi Chesser. In real life, Mary Leggin (lower center) goes over some sports copy with Doug Taylor. The publications room was saved from disaster so many times by Mabel Morrison (top right) that she was made a member of the staff. The time has come to speak of walruses and Troy Williams (center), Leslie Hodge, Gail Woods, and Sharon Conover (top center). At the lower right, Tim Silbaugh examines some more bad news.





Tracks' gets district funding for seven issues

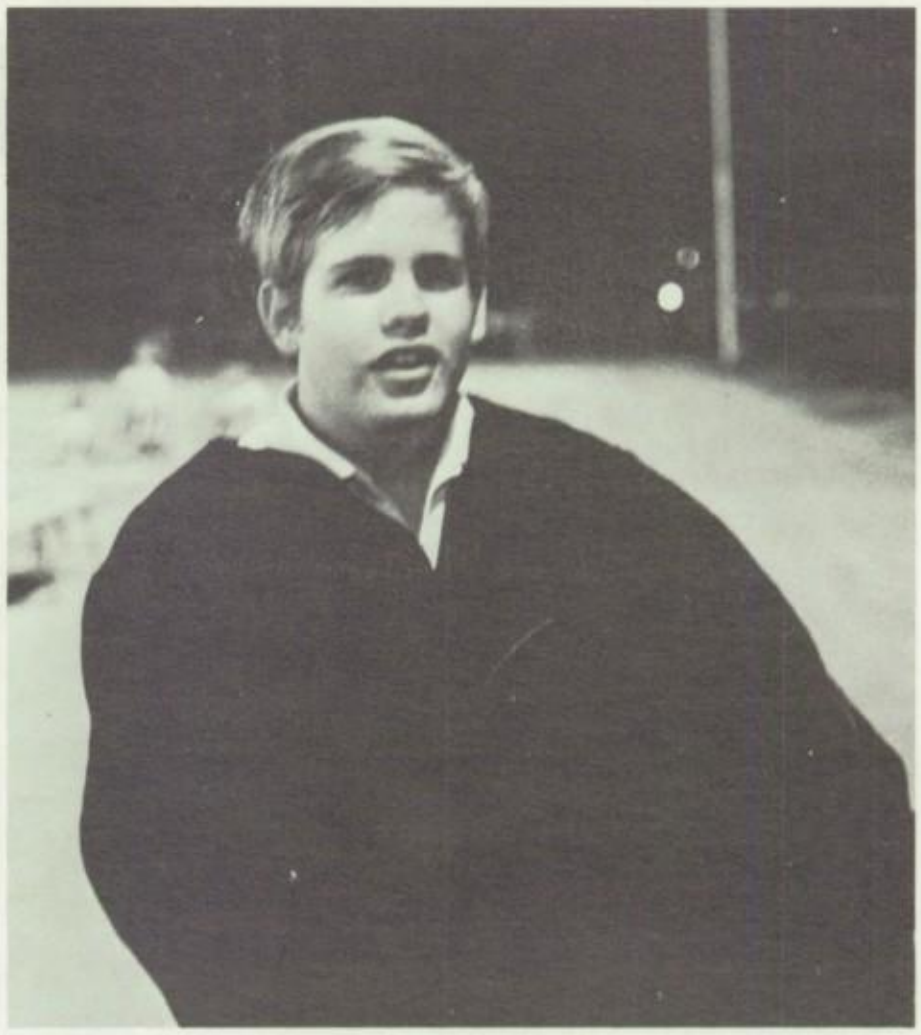
Under the editorship of sober and serious Armando de Leon, Panther Tracks did away with its frivolous tone by eliminating the whimsy (also spelled whimsey) column.

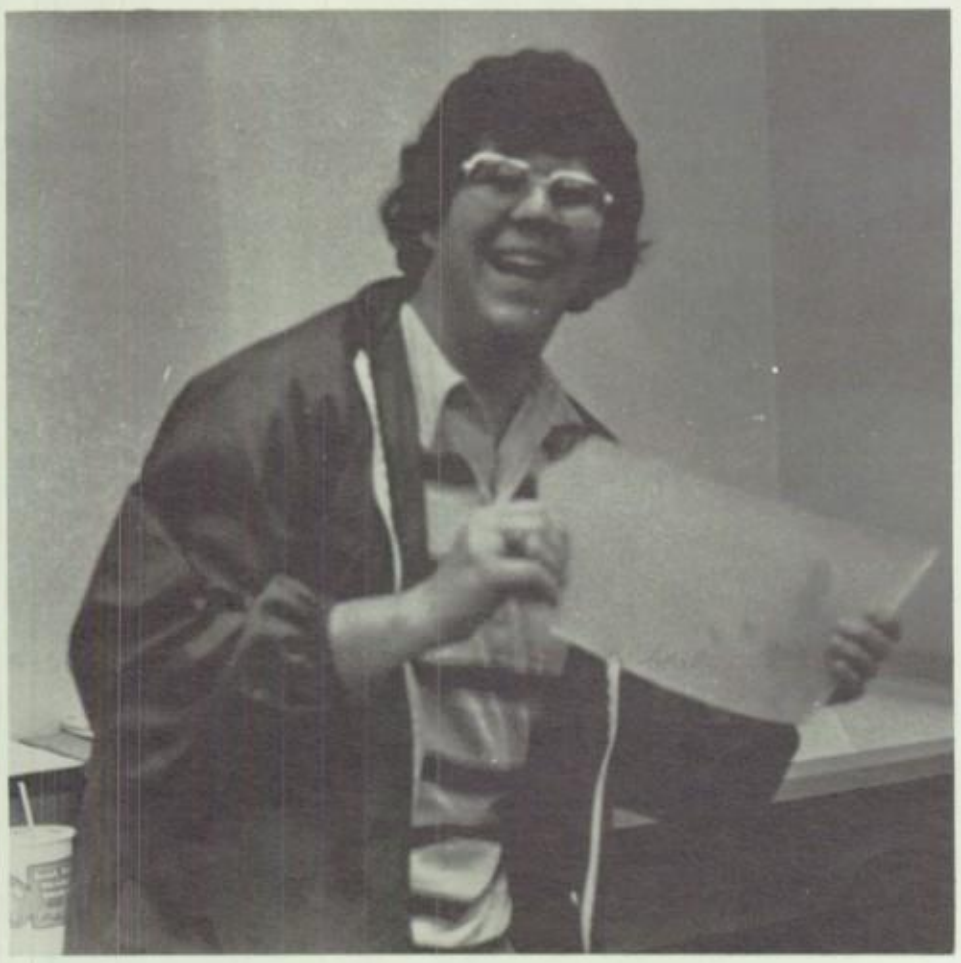
For the first time in history, the Phoenix Union High School District funded the paper. Although the district funds were only for seven issues and took the form of printing the paper in the district print shop, it was the best year the newspaper has had financially.

District news conferences between the superintendent and editors from the high school press became a regular feature. Armando even attended one that was televised over Channel 12. Subjects for the conferences ranged from "back to basics" to the new privacy law.

Section editors of the newspaper were Jeff Messner, news; Joy Blair, features; Francine Bard, comment; and Doug Taylor, sports. Lynn Rikas was business manager.

The newspaper staff is busily engaged in what they do best. They are Lynn Rikas, Tim Gift, Armando de Leon, Fran Bard, Joy Blair, Doug Taylor, Jeff Messner, Kim Wilke, Bob Nance, and Arvin Fredericks. In better times, Armando (top center) goes over copy at his editors desk. In order to do a story, Assistant Editor Tim Gift endures a night of being the mascot (top right). Nothing bothers Bob Nance (lower center) or keeps him from giggling through both sixth and seventh periods. Jeff Messner (lower right) remains cool, calm, and relaxed through all the hurly and burly of newspaper deadlines.





Cheerleaders help all teams lead pep assemblies, study

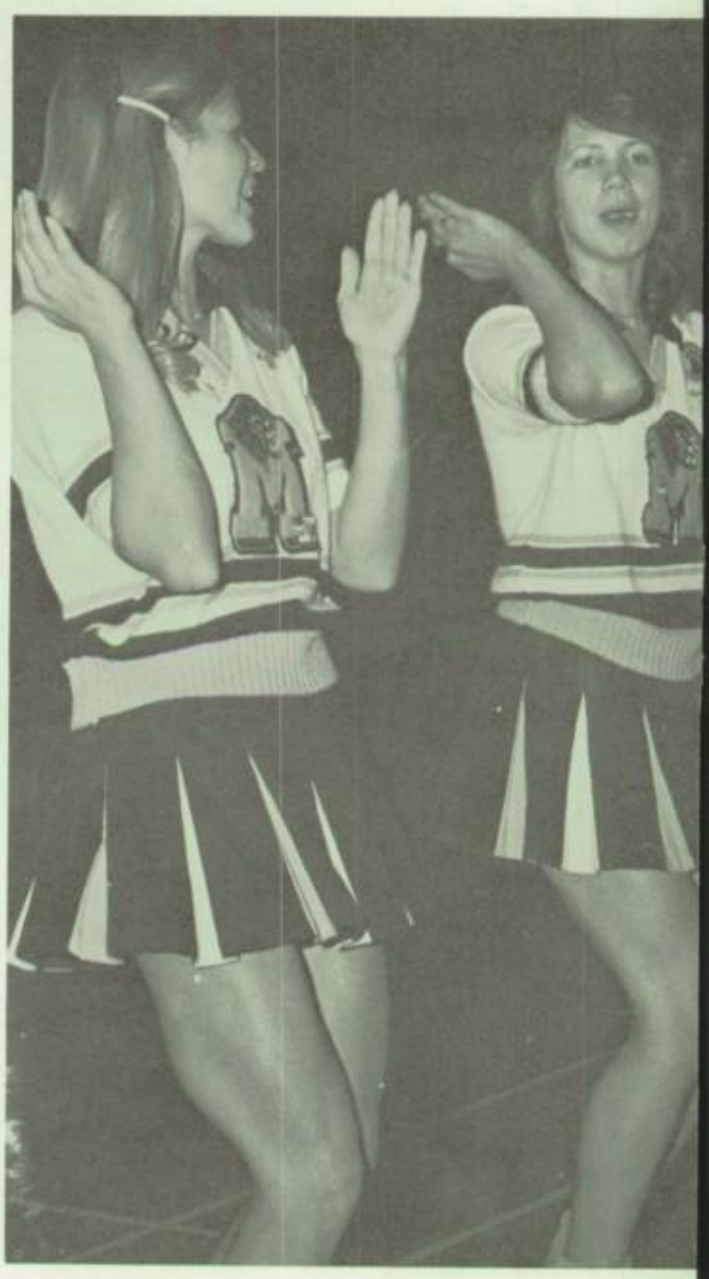
Maryvale cheers spirited up Panther fight. Their warm smiles enlivened any activity they attended.

The pep assemblies went into the heart of those students that attended.

When they stepped out of their uniforms, they became students like everyone else. It was the ordinary student, out of her cheer uniform doing homework, practicing cheers, and heartaches, that the other students didn't see.

They cheered and kept on cheering, till they lost their voice, and then they would whisper the cheers.

When the team is down, it is nice to know the cheers aren't out.



Photographers catch Jill Leker (top center) between cheers. Leading cheers in the gym (lower center) are Kelly Langford and Annette Galan. As the Panthers take to the field (lower right) Kelly Langford, Mike Garrison, and Julie Clark hold up the run through. The cheers used megaphones (far left) to help save their voices.

JV Cheers active in all sports

Spirit shows in Cindy Hall's face (far left) as she leads a cheer. Taken by surprise is Sue Saladin, center as she continues to cheer. Spirit was shown highly by Dawn Dankworth, (bottom) at one of the cheers many pep assemblies. J.V. CHEERS: FRONT ROW: Andrea Wooten, ROW 2: Janna Harrison, Jackie Hall, ROW 3: Sue Saladin, Dawn Dankworth, ROW 4: Lisa Shepard.

One of the most active groups on campus is the Junior Varsity Cheerleaders. Not only do they assist the Varsity Cheers in practically all their activities, but they also provide all the sideline action at all the J.V. team events.

The Jayvees participated in all pep assemblies this year and once, during the Paradise Balley basketball halftime show, they protrayed themselves as Poms.

Since most of Maryvale's Junior Varsity teams did well, some of the credit must go to their cheerleaders.

Poms add color to Band Shows

When the Maryvale Band marched onto the field at halftime this year, they were joined not only by the new flags, but also by the pom line. These talented girls added much to the performance.

The line got more than its usual dances to the tune of Panther Growl because of the scoring success of the team.

They took time from their other duties to serve as cheerleaders at the Paradise Valley basketball game. During the Christmas week activities, the poms acted the parts of Santa's elves when he visited campus. They conducted his children to his knee.

Of course the poms were an essential part of all pep assemblies. For one skit, they paired up to make one small person.

Shepard, Dedmon, Boatright, Cooney, Endres, take State

The 1977 Maryvale Panther football team enjoyed a 12-1 season, the Phoenix Division League B championship and earned a final ranking of third in the AAA polls. And they did it one game at a time;

Maryvale 14, Camelback 6
Junior Phil Sawyer scored the Panthers first touchdown of the season on a 25 yard pass from senior quarterback David Young. In the third quarter senior Chris Dedmon scored the Cat's second touchdown on a 10-yard pass. Camelback's only score came on a 89-yard kickoff return.

Maryvale 7, Glendale 0
Senior David Weaver scored on a one yard run through right tackle for the Panther's only touchdown. In the final minute, Weaver intercepted a Cardinal pass at the Maryvale 22 to clinch the victory.

Maryvale 20, Carl Hayden 7
Senior Mark Yates scored two touchdowns, on runs of one and seven yards. Dedmon caught an 18-yard pass from senior Danny Martinez for the final Panther score.

Maryvale 48, Trevor Browne 6
Junior Tony Leszczynski blocked a Bruin punt on the first series of downs and recovered it in the end-zone, he was merely the first of six Panthers who scored. He was joined by Yates, Dedmon, Kevin Moser, Dan Maxwell, and Sawyer.

Maryvale 14, Alhambra 12
Beyer scored on a four yard run and Dedmon returned an interception 49-yards to give the Panthers a 14-0 first period lead. Nine Panther fumbles made the score close.

Maryvale 14, Moon Valley 0
Senior Tom Cooney intercepted two Rocket passes, setting up both Panther scores as Maryvale won Homecoming by shutting out Moon Valley for the second straight year.

Maryvale 28, North 13
Yates and Craig Beyer ran for first period touchdowns as the Panthers won their League B Opener over the North High Mustangs.

Maryvale 28, South 13
Weaver scored touchdowns on a one yard run and a 34-yard run with a lateral as Maryvale gained revenge for a 9-0 defeat at the hands of the Rebels last year.

Maryvale 34, East 0
Maryvale crushed the previously undefeated and 4th ranked East High Longhorns 34-0 at East to clinch the Phoenix Division League B championship and conclude the regular season unbeaten. Before a stunned East High crowd Moser, and Beyer scored twice each and Chilton scored once in the rout.

Maryvale 28, Alhambra 12
Maryvale scored touchdowns on runs by Beyer, Yates, Weaver, and Moser to eliminate the Lions from the state playoffs.

Maryvale 16, Buena 14
Dedmon intercepted a pass and blocked a field goal and extra point as the Panthers held off the Buena Colts in the state quarterfinals at Rincon High School. Danny Maxwell scored the winning touchdown on a 23-yard fumble return in the final period.

Maryvale 0, McClintock 7
The Chargers scored a first period touchdown on a 16-yard pass from running back Mark Massey to Mark Cox and then held on to eliminate the Panthers in the state semi-finals at ASU's Sun Devil Stadium. Maryvale's best chance came on a fourth down and two yards to go situation at the McClintock six. Quarterback Young was sacked for an eight yard loss and the Panthers could come no closer.

Golf Team, Maryvale's Spring "Club"

Led by seniors Bryan Buckholz and Jim Overfield, the Maryvale varsity golf team again went after the state championship that has always eluded them in the past.

Coach Jerry Hicks charges figured to be tough with Greg Saboeiro, Pat Reser and Robert Blean most likely to join the two seniors as starters.

The golfers used Maryvale Golf Course as home base. Pro Bill Farkas lent a helping hand in instructing the golfers. Farkas has been recognized as a pro who encourages young players.

Basketball team finishes league 8-14

The 1977-78 varsity basketball team opened its season with a thrilling 57-55 win over the Tempe High Buffaloes. Moon Valley then upset the Panthers for the second straight year, 54-52.

Maryvale travelled to and defeated Alhambra 70-57, marking the first Panther victory over the Lions in six years. Mesa upset the Panthers by a score of 67-54 in the first round of the Phoenix Division Holiday Tournament. The Falcons of Carl Hayden fell to the Cats b a score of 55-51 in a consolation game the next night.

Phoenix Union's hot shooting Coyotes dealt the Cats a 63-58 defeat in a non-league game. This started a five game losing streak which brought the Panther's record to five wins and nine losses.

The streak came to an end via a 57-55 victory over the Central High Bobcats. A 72-61 victory over the North High Mustangs clinched the Panthers a spot in the Phoenix Division playoffs.

The Cats dealt North a 78-57 thrashing in the regular season finale.

The playoffs came to a disappointing end when the Cats fell to Phoenix Union in the first round of the Phoenix Division Tournament.

Gymnasts perform at football games

Individual performances by Dan Whelan, Dan Warner, and Armonda DeLeon, were expected to life the Maryvale Gymnastics team to yet another division championship this year.

Coach Richard Shilling's charges not only competed in the league inter-scholastic meets, they also provided sideline entertainment at football games and presented the third annual gymnastics assembly. The team was one of the hardest working groups on campus as they prepared for their season.

Curriculum

Goodson, Miller start task force problem-solving

With five years, 40 new classrooms and countless faculty changes behind him, Principal David Goodson might have been excused had he elected to sit on his laurels and desk during 1977-78 school year, but he attended a summer workshop at Vail Colorado that promised success in reaching hard to reach students.

As a result, he came back to Maryvale in the fall determined that the school do a better job in the field of student-teacher-relationships.

A noted drug expert talked to a faculty meeting. System workshops in positive discipline and creative decisionmaking were instituted on campus. And, finally, task forces were formed to work on the problems of drug and alcohol abuse and interpersonal relations.

All these activities, were in addition to a principal's usual duties in the fields of curriculum, discipline and community relations.

Associate Principal George Miller was kept busy during the year supervising scheduling, keeping track of attendance and working with department heads and teachers on matters of budgets and purchasing. He also worked with students with problems.

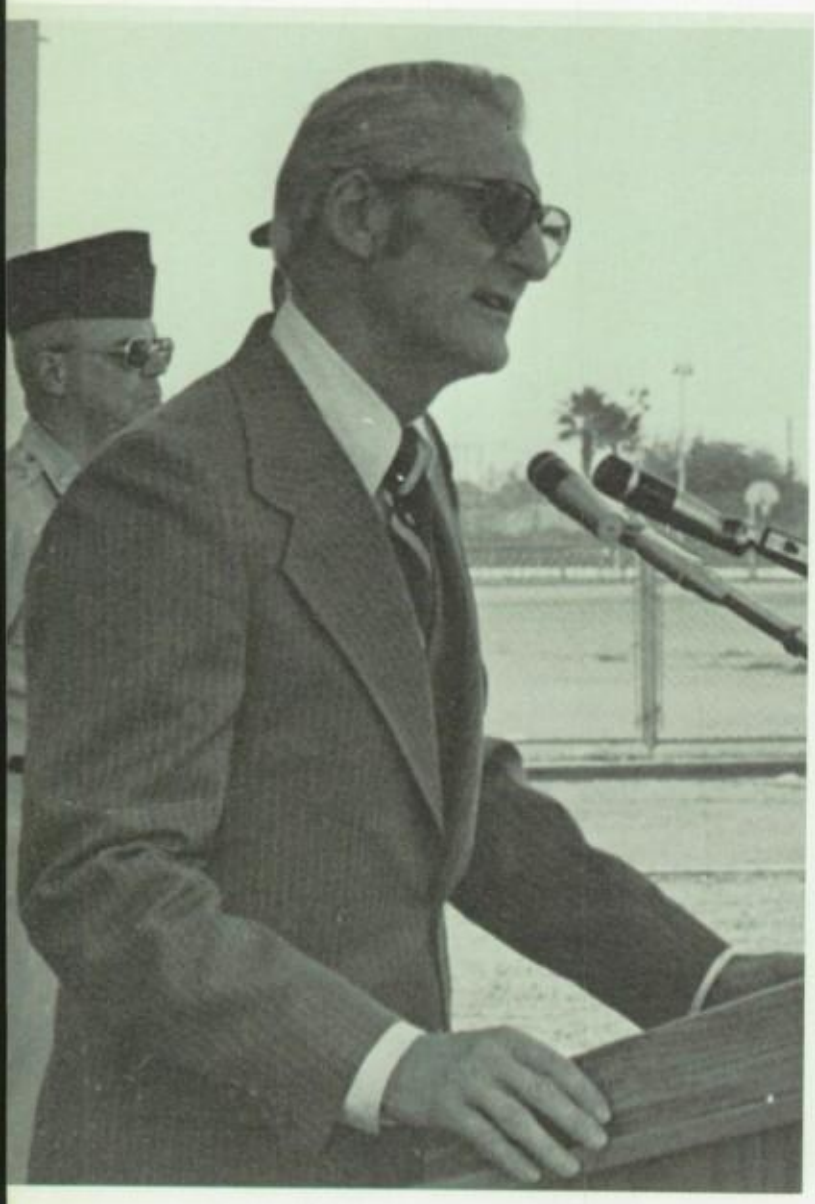
Magnusson is senior member of administrators

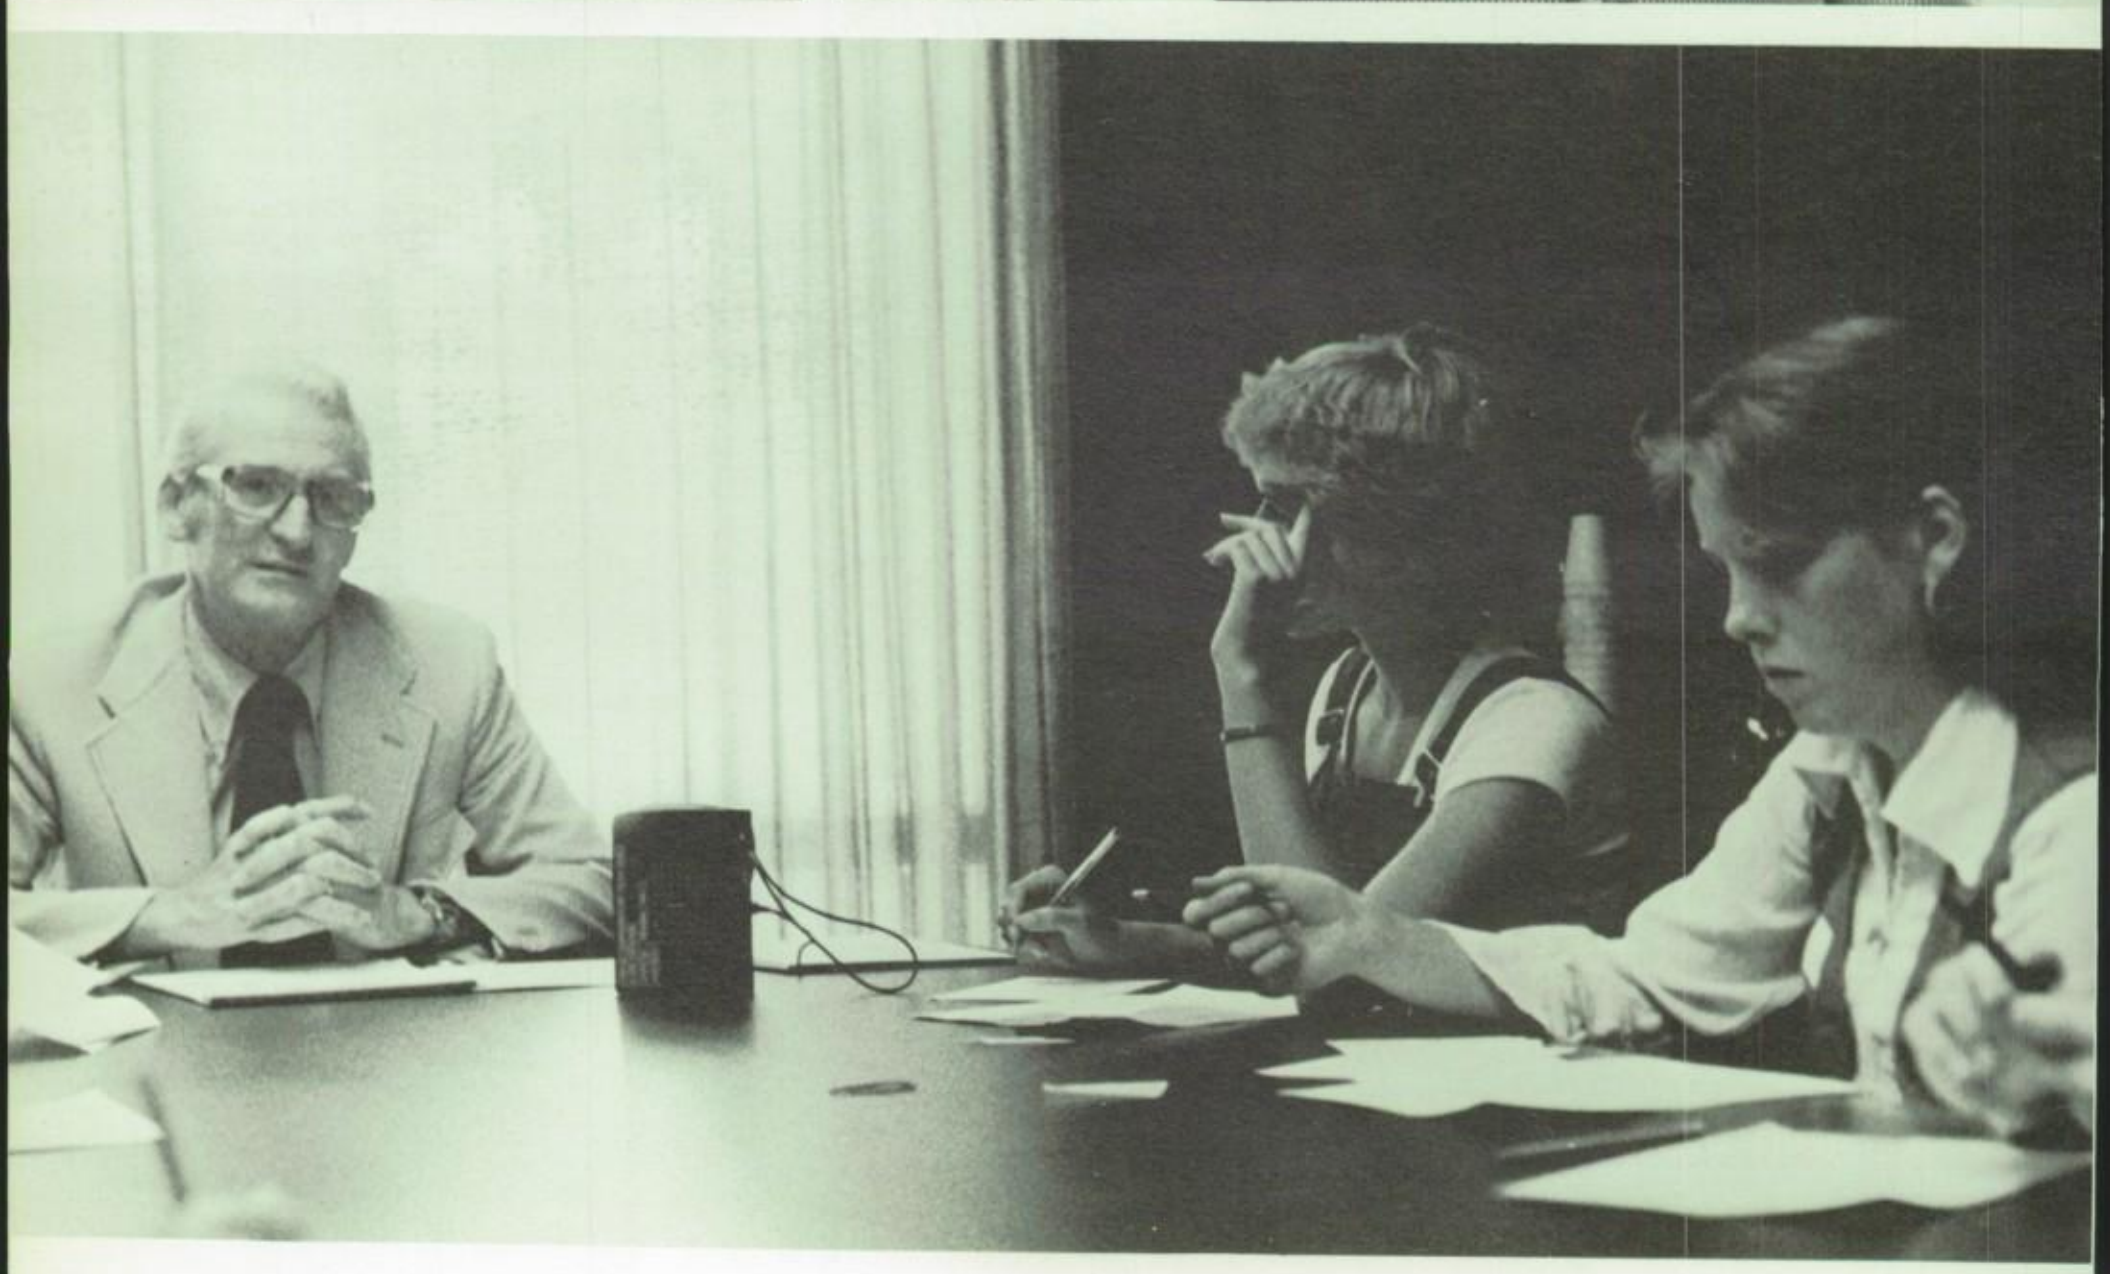
Day to day administrative problems were handled capably this year by three administrative assistants: Jeanne Schoolland, Wayne Kindall, and Bernard Magnusson.

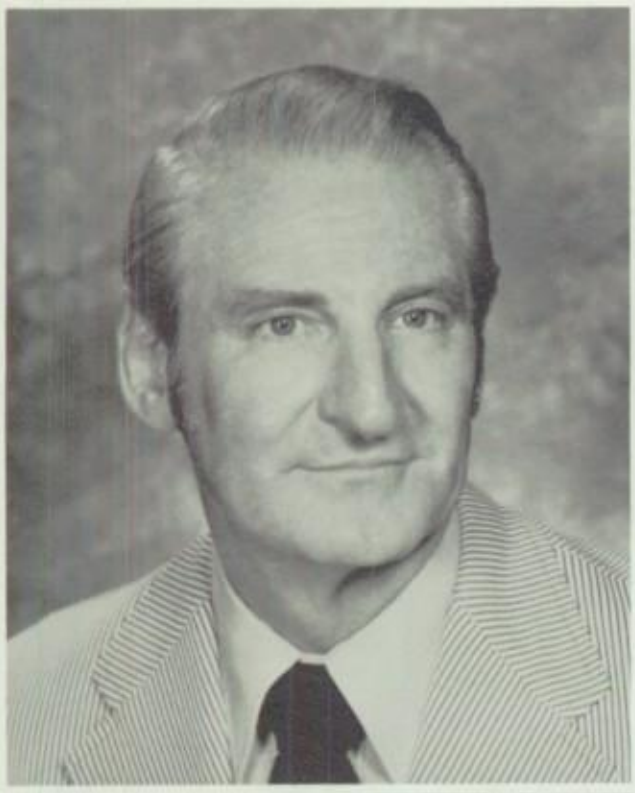
Mrs. Schoolland found her duties easier in her second year. She worked with troubled girls, met with parents and helped the faculty when needed.

Mr. Kindall's primary responsibility was campus control and this took much of his time. He also worked with all students with problems as well as coordinating assemblies.

Mr. Magnusson helped students with classroom problems and also kept the records and performed the duties of the athletic director for Maryvale's vast interscholastic sports program.







PUHSS Board hires Henderson as Superintendent

The Phoenix Union High School Board of Education is responsible for the educational opportunities of over 25,000 students at eleven high schools in the district, including Maryvale. One of the main problems faced by the board this year was the hiring of a new superintendent. After a nationwide search, they chose Dr. Patrick Henderson from the Sunnyside district near Tucson. Dr. Henderson and the board were faced with financing problems stemming from the fact that the district has a declining enrollment. Sharp cuts were made in the administration budget. The board also toughened the discipline policy on PUHSS campuses.

Faculty illness accidents cause long absences

Although all departments of the Maryvale faculty made strides toward providing even better educational opportunities for the students, perhaps the biggest story of the year was about the teachers who were not in their classrooms. Illnesses and an accident caused four of the normally healthy staff to be absent from the English, counseling and reading departments.

Allan Honig, a counselor, was so severely injured in a motorcycle accident in early October that he was not able to return to his duties this year.

Rubye Alexander, an English teacher, was still recovering from summer heart surgery. She attempted to return after the first trimester only to find she was not strong enough. Keith Lewis taught her classes during the first trimester and Terry Forthum took the second.

Surgery also sidelined Ellie Moberley, English, and Sue Stanford, Reading. Dorothy Stewart and Julia Duff substituted for them.

In other news, the Exceptional Students program (ESP) added one part-time and two full-time teachers to their staff. They were Kenneth Bottcher, Bill Hoyle and Sandra White. Also added were vocational programs self-contained classrooms, and a seminar program in performing arts. The program is headed by Lois Ostraat.

Math gets new teacher; Stuart, Russell return

The business department lost the services of Diana Thomas in the middle of the year when she moved from Maryvale into the Youth Employment and Education Program. She was replaced by Lea Baughty. The COE and DE programs sent students out into the world of business and retailing. Bill Saban is chairman.

Three most important people on the Maryvale campus are Bill Stephens, the school community worker, who kept in close contact with parents of students with problems, and Quindanell Brims, the nurse who delivered tender loving care to ailing students and cheers to the athletic teams. Also Bob Myers, who was the PAYS officer.

The Math Department added Gail Smith to its staff. Along with the standard math classes, the Math Lab was kept open to help students to pass the minimum math proficiency test. There was also the usual computer math program taught by Coach Bob Young. The department is headed by Bonnie Tryon.

Science, under the direction of Leo Koivisto, continued to offer four bioligies: human, plant, marine and animal. John Strickland's seminar class conducted original experiments for projects.

ICE splits day; Seniors get aid and tutors help

Besides auto, wood, and metal shops, the industrial arts staff offered ICE, a cooperative program where students attended school half a day and worked in industry for half a day. Larry Yule was in charge of this program. John Rebb is department chairman.

The change from trimesters to semesters planned for next year caused something of a flap for the counselors as they geared up for registration. They held a financial help night for seniors planning to go to college. One hundred and fifty seniors and parents attended this meeting. Clifford Currier heads the department.

A new program stressing moral values was instituted in the reading department, headed by Margaret Owen. Her own program which uses students to help students was greatly expanded. It has been found that the tutor as well as the tutee gains much from the program. The reading center, a miniature library, served as the hub for all reading and tutoring activities.

Portable camera televises games; class activities

Social studies welcomed back two people: Nancy Stuart who was out much of last year with an injury, returned as a full time government teacher and John Russell, who taught at Trevor Browne for several years since Maryvale went off double sessions. In addition, Jim Mottershaw's department administered the free enterprise test to scores of juniors who were trying to make senior life easier without taking the course.

Every year, Maryvale students think freshmen are really getting small when youngsters bound for the Home Economics Department's child development lab come on to campus. This program, under the direction of Irene Long, gives the children a chance to learn to play with others their own age while high school students learn about how to deal with them. Singles Survival, for bachelors of both sexes, was also a popular course.

An expanded program of video tapes, a new portable television camera, and a computer to help the careers center help students were the big happenings in the Instructional Materials Center. The TV camera was busy in all departments and was used to videotape athletic teams in action.

Frosh require basics, flags add to band shows

The English Department, under state mandate, started a minimal writing proficiency program designed to teach all freshmen certain basic skills necessary for living in today's complex world. Dorothy Thomas joined George Brown as chair of the department this year. Her duties included helping teachers develop the new freshman program, while Mr. Brown served as business manager of the largest Maryvale department.

Janice Bordigioni, a performing arts major from Grand Canyon College, divided her time between the English and the performing arts departments. She taught stage craft. The department added a new mesh screen backdrop for drama, and flag girls and two new instruments a soprano saxophone and a vibraphone for the band.

Colonel Wade replaces Carney as Commandant

The physical education department, co-chaired by Ginny Tote and Gil Trejo, stepped up the cooperation between the girls and the boys programs. More coeducational classes were offered as the federal Title 9 has ordered. Coeducational Recreation Activities (CORA) took the place of other courses.

Plans for and advertising art class got off the drawing board as the art department planned for the change back to semesters next year. Chairperson Elizabeth Meinecke provided projects which included multi-media approaches in some areas to her seminar group.

Food plays a big part in the foreign language curriculum as Spanish students usually practice at local Mexican food restaurants and French students dine at Cafe Casino. Skits and commercials are videotaped by these students also.

The only one man department, ROTC, got a new man this year. Colonel David Wade replaced Sergeant Thomas Carney as commandant. Chief among things new was a greater stress put upon human relations to replace much of military. The department also instituted a "run for your life program."

Patty,
Weve known each other for a long time.
During this time Ive always felt that you are a very close friend. It seems like every year we fade apart more and more.
But I still know that friendship is there.
Dont lose faith in your self. Youve got alot going for you. Please make good use of what youve got.

(247-2457)

Friends for Ever
Diane
Rogers

P.S. Dont forget to call some time!!!

Patty,
Im really glad
I met you in that "fun"
Child Developement class
youre a super sweet girl!
Hope you have a fantastic summer + I hope to see you next year! Best of luck
God Bless
love your friend,

Patty,
You are super sweet,
And I hope you have a great summer. If you are like me, I hope you get a great tan! Stay sweet,

Love
always.

Patty,
I wish
we could become better friends and had a chance to talk more You're a terrific person & great person in everything
Keep it up
Love,

Patty,
I'm glad I got to meet you
this year in Home
Design. It was an interesting class
with all the class
people that were in
it. Take care.

Always,
Sherri Hale

Patty,
You're a real sweet kid & I'm glad you were in
my class this year.
Have a beautiful summer.

Lauren

Patricia
You are so nice & so smart & I hope we always stay friends. This class we met in really isn't the best but and all were so nice & sweet & I love it &
I hope you did too.
God Bless &
Good Luck.
Love
Becky
Hugs

Now that the year is over, I can sit back and look at all our efforts, which during the year were put together page by page, and are now found here between a cover.

Before I go on any further I want to thank everyone who came to deadlines, and helped put this yearbook together, Josten's, Steve Haynes, Mr. Barclay, and especially Mr. Stinson, for his time, patience, and help; also for the cover photo, which was taken at Rocky Point.

It has been a lot of headaches, heartaches, and frustrations, but it's all been worth it.

There really isn't anymore I can say. You'd have to be editor, or at least on staff to understand what an accomplishment this book is. Just do me one favor and enjoy this book as much as I've enjoyed putting it together.

I've left my Tracks . . .

Mary Leggin

To you,
Lee, Its been a long time, hasn't it?
About 3 years to the exact. Seems like longer doesn't it. Remember falling madly in love with those letters from Nimm. & back.
Now could we? All those letters that you wrote me. What the hell was that car-crying our eyes out cause I had to move to Texas (which I, didn't)
And Gordon kept hugging us and he finally got very mad and left Oz. wk.? Well, I think we very good times, don't you. Still got all do. I'll see you next year and maybe some times during the summer.
Be Good + Good Luck.

Love Always,
Louise Logsdon

Sorry I'm a little late writing in your year book.
But better late than never. You've been a real good

Patty, It has Really been fun being in glee
with you these two years.
I hope you have a great
summer. Love you dearly
but not Bonnie Brierley
(Bozo)

Patty, It has been fun getting to meet you during our two years in glee.
Good luck in your junior year and have a great
summer. Love you dearly
but not Bonnie Brierley
(Bozo)

Patty
You're a very kind friend and a nice dance partner. Good luck next year and with the guys.
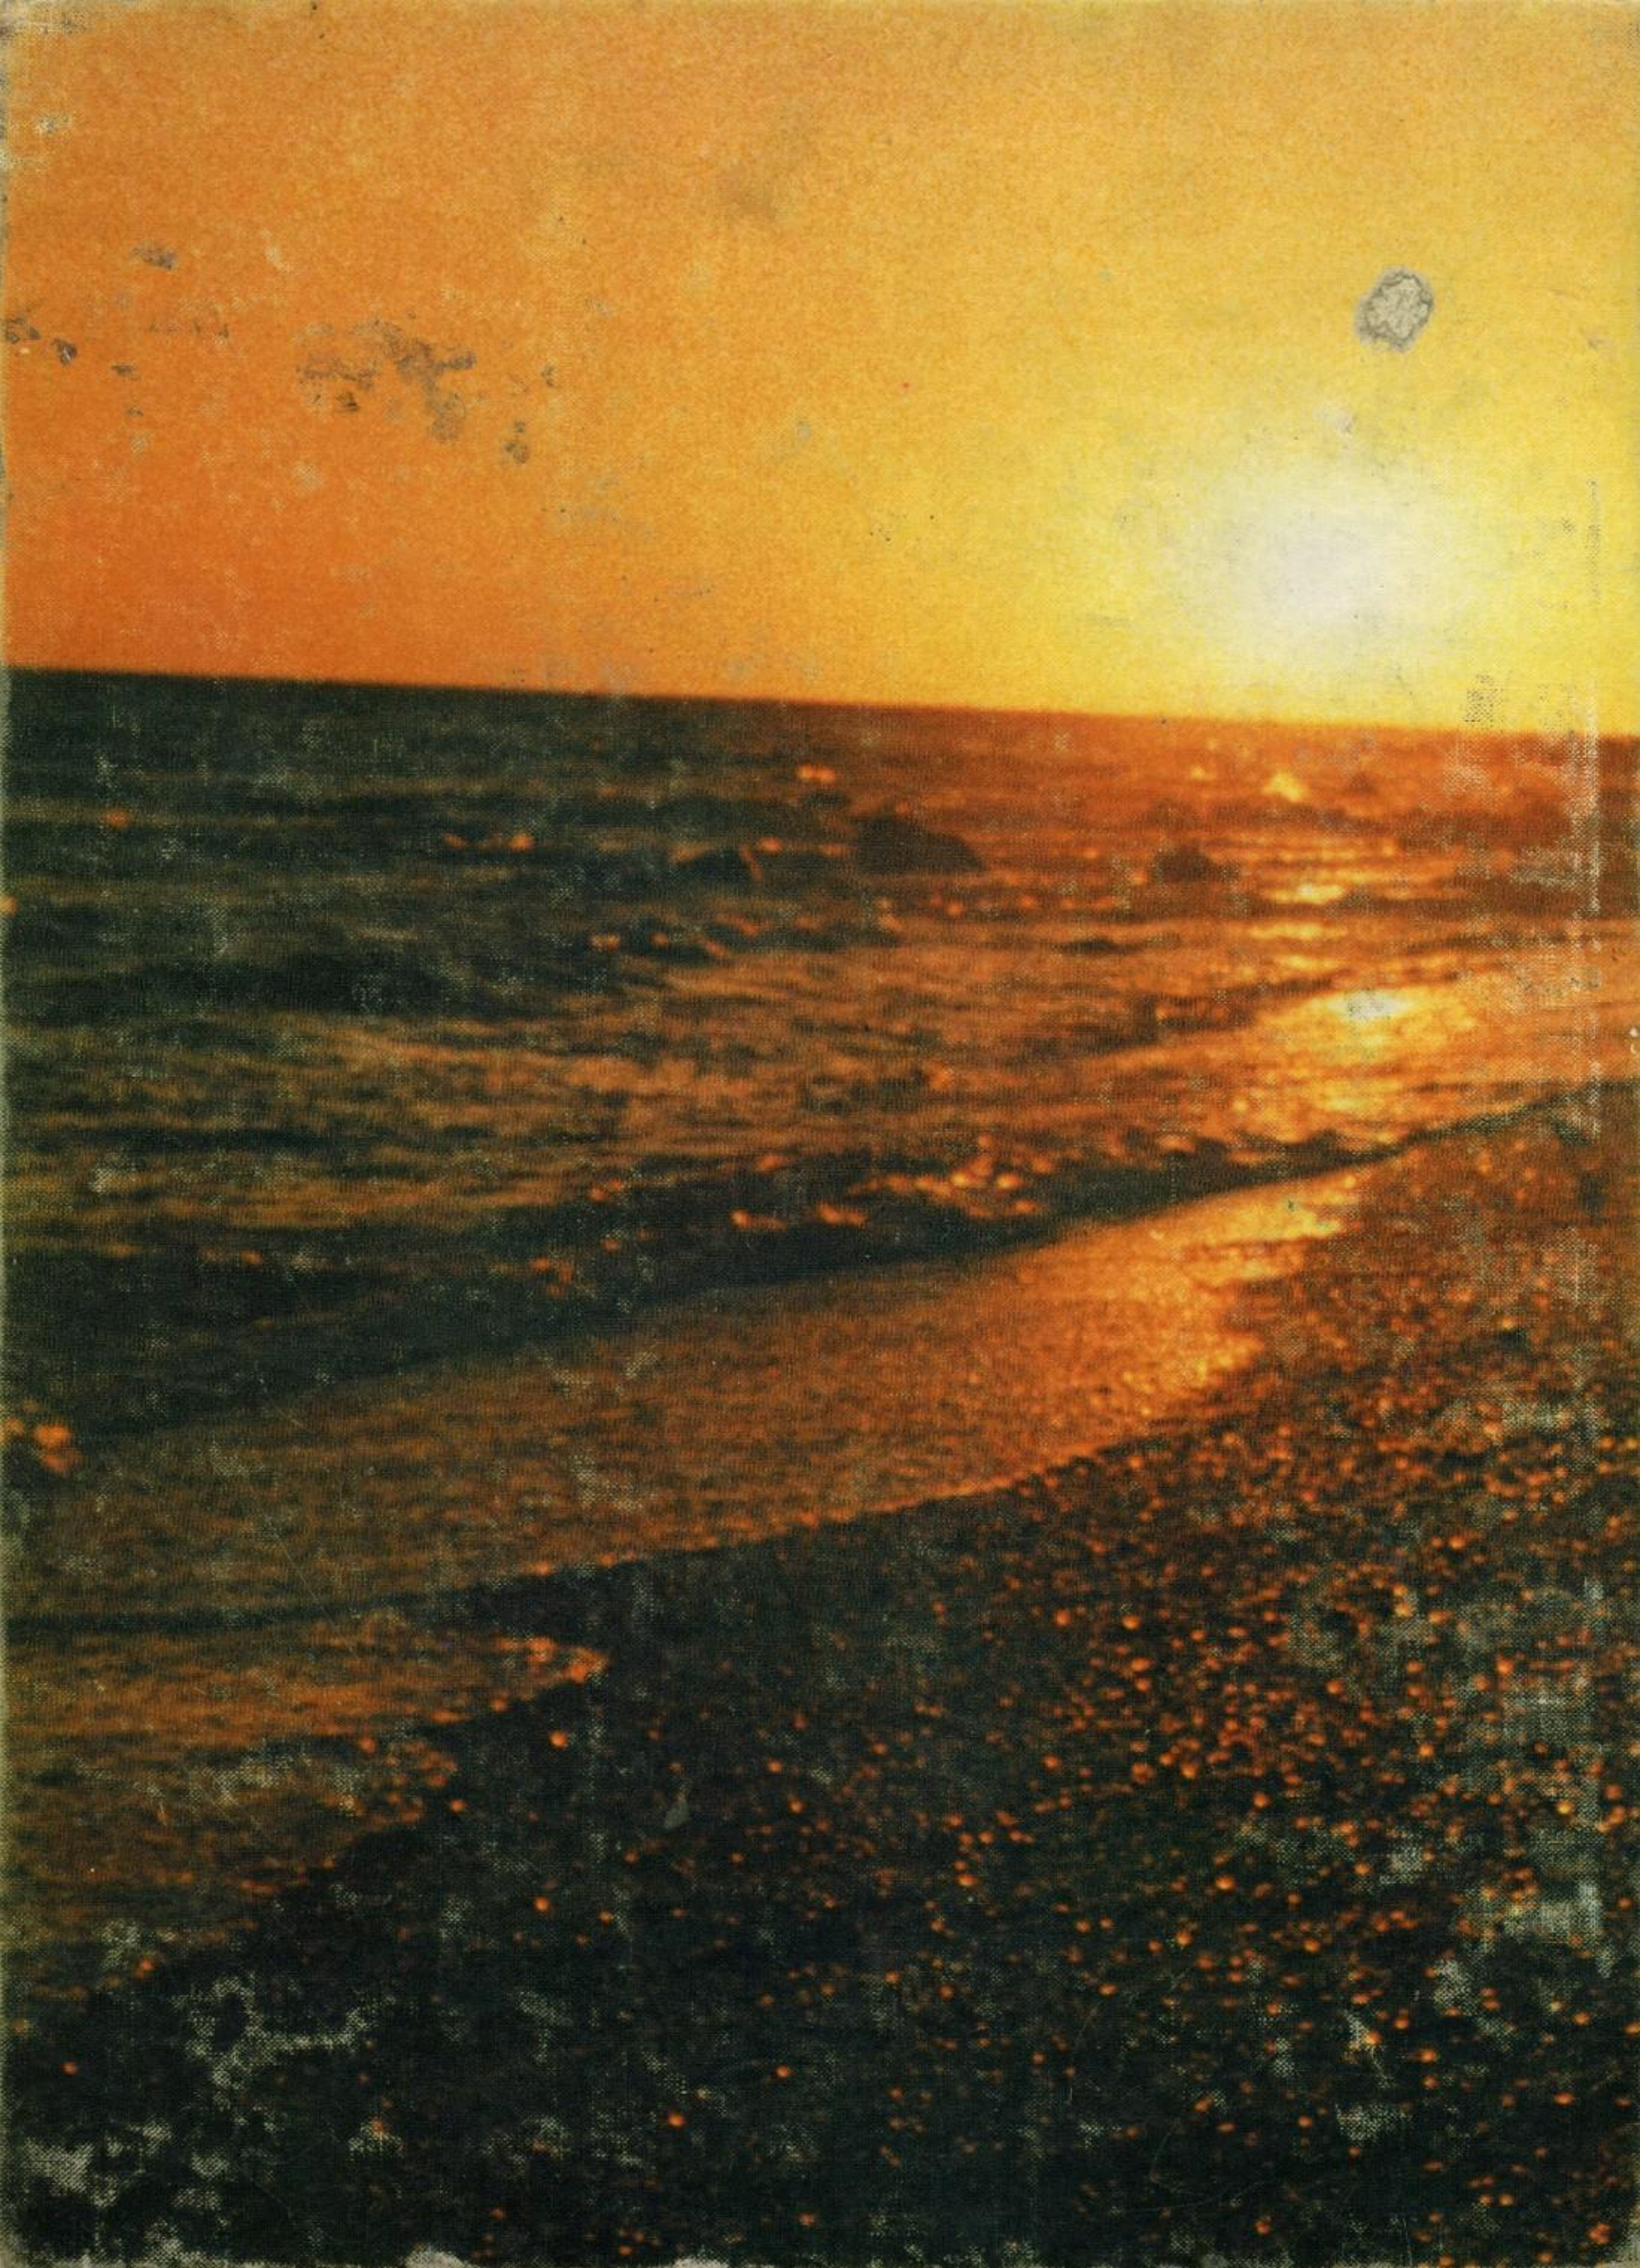
Have fun this summer!
Lois Fenstermaker

Patty
Have a wonderful
Summer and a Good Luck
Senior Year
Love ya,
Laurie


I don't think
you dance bad.
Better than me.
Watch out!
Love,
